Farm Aid Debate Finish Nears

PEACEMAKERS PUSH EFFORTS FOR SOLUTION

Guarded Predictions Made By Influential Labor Leaders That Britain's Industrial Tie-Up May Be Terminated Next Week---Numerous Disturbances.

LONDON, May 7. — (4 p. m.) — (By the Associated Press.)—Troops wearing steel helmets and carrying full field equipment were sent this afternoon into the dock districts of London where the rough crowds were becoming too unruly for the unarmed police.

To Call Up "Second Line."

LONDON, May 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—Another 2,000,000 workers, known as the Trades Union congress' "second line of defense," will be called on strike in support of the present strikers unless there are indications soon of a speedy settlement. This announcement was made today by E. L. Poulton, a spokesman for the Trades Union congress.

To Increase Police Force.

LONDON, May 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—The government has decided to increase the London police force to 80,000 men, recruiting 50,000 special police as quickly as possible. The regular number is approximately 30,000.

Armed Trops to be Backed.

LONDON, May 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—The government announced by radio today that all ranks of the armed forces of the crown will receive the government's full support in any action they may find it necessary to take in honest efforts to aid the civil powers in dealing with strike disorders.

Both Sides Stand Firm.

(By the Associated Press.)

Great Britain went into the fourth day of the general strike with both sides standing pat, but guarded predictions were made in labor quarters that the crisis might be settled early next week. Premier Baldwin and J. H. Thomas, labor leader, have been in conference.

An international aspect was given to the strike when the executive aerofest:fi- cmfwyp cmfwyp comittee of the Danish Trades unions at Copenhagen gave preliminary notice of a walkout in support of the British workers.

The communist internationale in Moscow seeks to bring together representatives of French, Belgian, Czecho-slovakian, Dutch and German labor organizations to frame measures aiding the British strikers.

Money is being sent to the British workers by Mexican and Argentine labor bodies and American labor has been asked to contribute.

There was little disorder up to noon today, although disturbances occurred in Edinburgh last night and at Middleboro, where the freight station was wrecked and an alleged attempt was made to wreck a passenger train.

Strikers' Attitude Menacing.

The Welch coal fields are quiet, but the attitude of the strikers in Cardiff has become menacing.

The government claims the workers are trickling back to their jobs or are making overtures for protection if they should return.

Volunteers for necessary service are increasing and many more buses and trains were available today. The London subway has posted "no help wanted" signs.

While the Trades Union congress is deliberating whether to call out the electrical workers, strikes have been declared at the Newcastle and Newport power plants.

Shipping conditions are almost normal at Liverpool and are improv-

"Joe" Cannon Celebrates His 90th Birthday

DANVILLE, Ill., May 7. — (By the Associated Press.)—A soldier home from the wars Joseph C. Cannon, celebrated his njnetieth birthday today amid his home folk nor viewed with any regret the shield he had laid aside.

In the midwestern city from which he went twenty-three times to the congress of the United States, the aged patriarch planned his customary morning trip downtown, to be followed by perusal of his mail in his study and then tuning in on the radio.

Only the arrival of scores of congratulatory letters and telegrams and the visits of several formal delegations of well wishers ever alters this birthday routine from which he seldom has deviated since he dropped the mantle of statesmanship four years ago and came home.

"I had opinions and expressed them when I was in public life," he said. "Now I've retired. The new generation doesn't need my advice."

One point, however, he stresses. He is still a republican and would wager for republican success.

Good Showers Fall In Kansas

TOPEKA, Kas., May 7.—(AP)—Showers brought relief to a thirsty state last night. Every corner of Kansas enjoyed a warm spring rain, which centered its efforts over the southeastern counties, where Independence received 1.62 inches of moisture.

Even the parched northwest section had its showers. Dresden, one of the driest spots in the corner of Kansas which has been suffering a sustained drouth, received .41 inch; Phillipsburg reported .22 inch; Goodland, .18, and Hays a trace. But this, according to S. D. Flora, chief of the weather bureau, was not sufficient to be of much benefit to the wheat crop of the northwest.

Wichita recorded .54 inch rainfall; Dodge City .26 and Topeka .14. The showers will continue tonight over the east and south portions of Kansas but will cease by morning, it was predicted.

MRS. DODGE TO MARRY DILLMAN

Widow Of Wealthy Automobile Manufacturer to Wed Former Actor.

Match Rumored For Month Following Purchase Of Palm Beach Home.

DETROIT, Mich., May 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—Mrs. Horace E. Dodge, widow of the automobile manufacturer and one of the wealthiest women in Detroit, will be married to Hugh Dillman of New York and Palm Beach, a former actor. This brief announcement to friends late yesterday set at rest rumors which have persisted for almost a month.

The wedding will be held at the home of Mrs. Dodge's only son, Horace E. Dodge, at his estate at Grosse Pointe, a suburb. The guests will be limited to immediate relatives and a few close friends.

The first distinct rumors that Mrs. Dodge contemplated marriage came April 12 when it was announced at Palm Beach, Fla., that she had purchased the beautiful home of Joshua C. Cosden, wealthy oil man. The purchase price was not announced, but the value of the property was estimated at about $4,000,000. Mr. Dillman acted as agent for Mrs. Dodge in the purchase of the residence.

Although Mrs. Dodge's wealth is known to run into many millions of dollars, no estimate of it ever has been given. About a year ago the plant of Dodge Brothers, which was owned entirely by the late Horace E. odge and his brother, was sold to Dillon, Read and Co., of New York, for $146,000,000. In addition to her share in this property, Mrs. Dodge has large land holdings in Detroit, both of the Dodge brothers having extensive real estate investments here.

Mr. Dillman is a former husband of Marjorie Rambeau.

Requisition For Garrison's Return

A requisition has been issued by the governor for Lawrence M. Garrison, formerly an air pilot for the United States government, who is charged with deserting his wife and 5-year-old daughter, Amy Louise, in Omaha on June 17, 1925. Garrison has been arrested at Kansas City. His wife's affidavit, accompanying the complaint filed with the governor, alleges that he has been living there with another woman as his wife.

Mrs. Garrison says she lost all track of her husband and heard nothing of him until April 23, when she learned he was in Kansas City. She and her little girl are residing at 556 South Twenty-fifth avenue, Omaha.

ALL NEBRASKA GETS RAINFALL

Western Part of State Is Visited Thursday By Rains Of Two and Three Inches In Number Of Places.

LIGHT SHOWERS IN EASTEN SECTION

Winter Wheat and Other Crops Greatly Benefitted But Not Sufficient Moisture Yet to Put Soil In Best Condition.

An all-day rain Thursday in the western half of Nebraska lasted through the night, reaching 2 and 3 inches in a number of places, broke the long dry period which had prevailed so far this spring. Light rain or showers also fell in the eastern part of the state Thursday night, and the east central portion, which was missed by the general storm over the remainder of the state, received a slow rain Friday morning with prospect of continued showers Friday night and Saturday. In Lincoln .08 inch had fallen up to Friday noon.

Winter wheat, spring grains, alfalfa and pastures would be greatly benefitted by the moisture, all reports agreed, but it was said there had not been enough moisture yet Friday morning in most sections to put the soil into first class condition.

Three Inches at Chappell.

The wheat crop in western Nebraska was regarded as assured by the rain, which had laster twenty hours at Chapell where 3 inches of moisture were estimated to have fallen. In eastern Nebraska showers were falling Friday morning and were continuing at noon.

The following figures were reported to the weather bureau at 7 a. m. Friday:

Culbertson		Auburn	.02
Broken Bow	.33	Columbus	.06
Tarbury	.14	Fairmont	.68
Grand Island	.50	Hastings	.28
Holdrege	.29	North Loup	.14
North Platte	.18	Oakdale	.03
O'Neill	.01	Red Cloud	.23
		Valentine	.24

Alliance reported 2 inches after a steady downpour of twelve hours Friday morning, which had not yet abated. From Seneca to the western border the rain was equally steady, though not so heavy in most places.

Friday morning rain was falling at Hastings, with a quarter inch already measured, at Hebron, Beatrice, and Bennet, the Telephone company reported. The best rain

By replacing part of the preferred stock with bonds, the interest charge is lowered from 8 to 6 per cent, and will perit paying a higher rate than 5 1-4 per cent on the common stock.

DAUGHERTY TO FACE CHARGES

Federal Grand Jury at New York Indicts Former Attorney General With Thomas W. Miller and John T. King.

CONSPIRACY IN METAL CO. CASE IS ALLEGED

Indictment Says Defendants Were Paid $391,000 For Putting Through Transfer Of Securities In Fraudulent Manner.

NEW YORK, May 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—Harry M. Daugherty, former United States attorney General, was indicted by a federal grand jury today with Thomas W. Miller, former alien property custodian and John T. King, former republican national committeeman of Connecticut, for conspiracy in connection with the American Metal Co., case.

The indictment charges conspiracy to prevent the government from receiving the honest and unbiased judgment of Daugherty and Miller, both acting officially, as to the turning over of the Metal Company's securities. The indictment charges that it was part of the conspiracy to enable Daugherty, Miller, King and the late Jesse Smith to receive from the clamants of the securities the sum of $391,000 which

JURORS STILL DELIBERATING

No Verdict Yet Reached By the Twelve Men Who Took Davis Murder Case Shortly After Six O'clock Thursday.

ASK TO BE SHOWN A GRAIN OF STRYCHNINE

Verdict Must Be Guilty Of Murder In The First Degree Or Not Guilty, According To Court's Instructions.

The jury in the Davis murder case at McCook had reached no verdict up to 2:30 p. m. Friday.

M'COOK, Neb., May 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—The twelve men who heard the trial of Bert M Davis, this morning were deliberating whether he poisoned his wife so he could marry Kate M. Resler, or if she died of self administered abortive medicine, or from other causes. The jury resumed deliberation at 8:30.

Given the case last night, the jury deliberated two and a half hours before District Judge C. E Eldred ordered them locked up for the night. Whether the question was debated during the night was not known, but the court was in readiness to receive a verdict after 9 o'clock this morning.

Verdicts of not guilty of murder, or guilty of murder in the first degree are open to the jury, Judge Eldred instructed it.

The trial began Monday, April 26, State testimony consumed all of last week and the defense presented its side this week. Throughout the prosecution has sought to show that Mrs. Blanche Davis was given poison, and in its effort to do so, sought to show an intimacy between Davis and his present wife before Blanche Davis died, introduced testimony of doctors that poison was found in her body, and even opened her casket, buried for months to substantiate the latter contention.

Women Were Friends.

The defense introduced testimony that the two women were friends that Davis' relations with Mrs. Resler were but ordinary and that when his wife became ill, he called a doctor himself. Testimony that she feared having a child and died of nephritis induced by abortive medicine was given by defense witnesses.

A feature of the testimony was that of Glen and Fern Davis, chil-

OPPORTUNITY IN SOUTH AMERICA

Gold Says Neighbor Continent Place For the Ambitious.

No part of the world holds out greater opportunities for the virile young American than does South America, William Gold told members of the Kiwanis club at luncheon Friday noon at the chamber of commerce. The chances for the real wide awake young man are marvelous, he said, "so marvelous that it is almost impossible to conceive of their greatness."

Mr. Gold was describing those sections of South America visited by him on a recent tour there. He told of the cities and country, the people and their work and play.

Buenos Aires is the most extravagant city on the continent, he said, telling of the tendency of the people to gamble, attend the races and do nothing.

Many thousands follow that kind of a life, he said.

Rio Janeiro offers the tourists one of the most beautiful sights of the south, Mr. Gold said. The outer harbor is dotted with small islands among which a ship must wind its way to reach the inner harbor. Here the city with its brilliantly colored buildings lies against a background of great green hills, its colors glistening in the sun and presenting a sight, once seen, is never forgotten.

Argentine has no restrictions on immigrant but it is difficult to get away from there, Mr. Gold said. He declared that should a tourist buy a trip ticket for Lincoln in Buenos Ayres and return 10 per cent of the whole purchase price must be paid before the holder could leave.

Preceding Mr. Gold Miss Vera Upton sang, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Carrie B. Raymond.

LONDON, May 7.—(AP)—Sensational and exaggerated reports of violence and disorder sent to America in connection with the general strike were discredited by Pembroke Wycks, official government spokesman, at a conference with newspapermen late this afternoon.

FEW SIGNS AS TO THE TREND OF SENTIMENT

Four Day Consideration of Haugen, Tincher and Curtis-Aswell Relief Measures Approaching Conclusion, With Outcome Very Much In Doubt.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—Light is being sought from the white house to guide republican leaders in congress out of the black morass of dissension into which they have been led in search for a feasible method of farm relief.

While the house was continuing its debate today on the three way relief program reported from the agriculture committee, Representative Vestal of Indiana, the republican house whip talked over the situation with President Coolidge and said afterward that he would confer with other republican house leaders and then might make some recommendation to the party organization.

Declining to discuss the president's position in detail, Mr. Vestal indicated that the executive remained firm against any price fixing legislation.

He said he felt sure Mr. Coolidge would approve the Tincher farm credit measure, one of the trio now under debate, if it were passed in a form showing clearly that its purpose was not to fix prices.

He declined to predict what the executive would do, however if congress left on the white house doorstep the Haugen bill, with its price-stabilization provisions.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—The house today swung into the home stretch of the four day period set aside for debate on the Haugen, Tincher and Curtis-Aswell farm relief bills. The halfway post was rounded at a session last night and indications pointed to members again sitting till well after dark.

So far only a handful have spoken and little positive indication has been given as to the trend of sentiment, although friends of each proposal hold the drift to be their way.

Each has been explained by its author, Representative Tincher, republican, Kansas, completing the trio by taking the floor in behalf of his last night. As yet, however, no party leaders have spoken and their paternal voices are awaited to give the first definte clue to prospective line-ups. Prohibition, meanwhile, has bobbed up anew in the situation, with Representative Black, democrat of New York, contending in a statement that it is the reason farm relief is needed and asserting that "the answer to the farm problem is light wine and beer."

Applaud Other Plans.

Predictions have been made that

A NEW DRIVE BY BUCKNER

New York U. S. Attorney Raids Fifty More Night Clubs, Bringing Prohibition Padlocking Total Up To Six Hundred.

NEW YORK, May 7.—(By the Associated Press)—Raids on fifty additional night clubs in his fifth and largest drive have brought United States Attorney Buckner's prohibition padlocking score up to six hundred during his year in office.

Two clubs in private dwellings were among the fifty places invaded last night and early today by his raiders. Dancing and drinking were stopped at various places from Greenwich village to the fashionable upper east side. All had selected clients who had to be known in order to enter.

One of the dwellings was the home of John Caraway, proprietor of the Dublin restaurant, which was also raided. The others, on Riverside Drive, was occupied by the Entre Nous club, where $10,000 worth of liquor was seized last February. A ninety-foot bar ,with customers lined up three deep before it, was found in the Belmont Social Organization in West Forty-seventh street.

Several Arrested.

While the raids were intended to serve notice to padlock proceedings several persons caught violating the Volstead act were arrested.

The district attorney signalized his induction to office by raiding fourteen night clubs and in each of the succeeding raids the number of places has increased. The total of 600 padlocks includes saloons as well as clubs.

The proprietors of the place visited last night have twenty days in which to answer padlock suits. Evidence against them was gathered beforehand.

Saved $5,000 On Cost Of Bridge

By rejecting all bids in April and readvertising, the state of Nebraska and Buffalo county saved $5,000 in the cost of construction for the new state aid bridge to be constructed over the Platte river at Gibbon, State Engineer Cochran said Friday, upon his return from Kearney.

The work was awarded in two sections to different contractors for the total of $78,500, one part covering the bridge itself, 900 feet long, and the other about a mile of dirt filling, at both ends, for the approaches.

A month ago, when bids were received for the whole project as one unit, the lowest offer was $83,500. By splitting up the job and giving an opportunity to bid on the grading alone, the saving of $5,000 was realized on the same set of plans and specifications.

Veteran Slays Two Children And Himself

ROCHESTER, N. Y., May 7.—(AP)—Peter Marratt, World war veteran, 32 years old, today fatally shot his 5-year-old daughter, Theresa, and his 3-year-old son, Joseph, and then killed himself.

Marratt's wife seized their third child, an infant, when the shooting began and fled the house. The mother and baby escaped uninjured.

Junior High Pupils To Give Operetta

The Twenty-sixth and O streets junior high school will present "The Daughters of Mohammed," this evening at 8:15 o'clock in the high school auditorium. The operetta has a splendid cast of characters, and a number of very good musical numbers which are given with the assistance of the high school orchestra.

The production is based on Washington Irving's legend of "The Three Beautiful Princesses."

Magowan of Gordon, featured the closing session Thursday of the sixth district convention of the Nebraska Federation of Women's clubs. Mrs. J. C. McCreary of Scottsbluff was elected president of the district; Dr. Carrie Bowman of Loup City, vice president and Mrs. W. K. Hodgkin of Sidney treasurer. Members of the board are Mrs. Walter Hoagland of North Platte and Mrs. James Harrington of O'Neill. Invitations for the 1927 convention were received from Bayard and Gibbon.

Pioneer Preacher Visits Fairbury

(Special to The Star.)

FAIRBURY, Neb., May 7.—Rev. George H. Wehn, Fairbury's first regularly appointed Methodist pastor beginning his work in 1870, is visiting old friends here this week. He is accompanied by Mrs. Wehn. They are on their trip home to Whiting, Ia., after attending the golden jubilee services at the Methodist church at Geneva, Neb.

The Methodist church was organized here in 1870 with a membership of five. During the year, Rev. Wehn was pastor, services were kept up and classes organized at Fairbury, Jenkins Mills, Rock Creek, Cub Creek, Rose Creek, and several other places. Rev. Mr. Wehn was also a pioneer pastor at Geneva. During the summer of 1875, he built a parsonage his wife helping him in the laying of the floors and placing of partitions. During the celebration last week at Geneva, Mr. Wehn preached the first evening and took some part in every service during the four day meeting.

Veteran Bicyclist Makes New Record Beatrice-Lincoln

BEATRICE, Neb., May 7.—(AP)—Sherman Whitcomb, Beatrice, who says "I will never see forty-five again," Wednesday night established a bicycle record for endurance and speed. Nearly thirty years ago, Whitcomb was known in the west as a speedster of the saucer track. He held many records as a bicycle rider.

Wednesday night, after three weeks of quiet working out, he mounted his wheel and started for Lincoln in the effort to break a record made twenty years ago by Charles Hall, Omaha six-day bicycle champion.

Paced by an automobile, Whitcomb covered the 42 miles in 1 hour and 40 minutes. Twelve miles of rough going was encountered by the veteran athlete in deep gravel near Cortland. Hall covered the same route 28 years ago in 2 hours and four minutes.

"I was tired, but nowhere near collapse and could converse easily when I reached Lincoln," said Whitcomb. "I have never touched liquor or tobacco. Maybe that has something to do with my stamina now."

Find Gravel Bed Within Fairbury

(Special to The Star.)

FAIRBURY, Neb., May 7.—The discovery of a big bed of sand and gravel by contractors while grading for paving on G street has resulted in considerable saving to the city. The sand is being used to cover unpaved sections in various parts of town and as a cushion for the brick of the paving, thus saving a long haul. The west ends of Sixth, Seventh and Elgath streets have been graveled and other streets in the west and the northeast parts of town. A vacant lot near G street has been donated for storage of this gravel for future use by the city.

To Condemn Ground For a Public Road

(Special to The Star.)

FREMONT, Neb., May 7.—A determined move was started today to secure necessary right of way along the Black Hills trail from Fremont to the Dodge-Cuming county line. County Attorney John Gumb was ordered to prepare condemnation proceedings to be started at once, in case negotiations with propertyowners for ground for several cutoffs are not successful.

Ten Grid Games On Midland Schedule

FREMONT, Neb., May 7.—Midland college will play a ten-game football schedule, according to announcement by Coach Max Houser. The slate:

Sept. 26—Tabor at Fremont.
Oct. 2—Morningside at Sioux City.
Oct. 9—Open.
Oct. 16—York college at Fremont.
Oct. 23—Peru Normal at Peru.
Oct 30—Nebraska Wesleyan at Fremont.
Nov. 6—Hastings college at Hastings.
Nov. 11—Omaha university at Fremont.
Nov. 13—Cotner college at Fremont.
Nov. 20—Wayne Normal at Wayne.
Nov. 25—Chadron Normal at Chadron.

DEFENSE VOLUNTEERED.

NEW YORK, May 7.—(AP)—Former Judge Leonard Smitkin, noted criminal lawyer, Thursday volunteered to defend Alexander R. Hodges, Kansas university football star, who is charged with robbery, in connection with the holdup of a restaurant here. The defense asserts it has found witnesses to corroborate Hodges' statement that he stopped running and turned back to the restaurant when he was arrested following the alleged holdup.

Hundreds Inspect Sugar Beet Train

(Special to The Star.)

BRIDGEPORT, Neb., May 7.—Less than 500 people visited the Burlington route and Great Western Sugar company's special beet train here, but, as the special made two more stops in Morrill county at towns where there is more acreage, the attendance here was counted satisfactory. The agricultural class of the high school visited the train, with the teacher, and practically every pupil will take part in the prize essay contest on how to increase the yield of beets. Five speakers talked during the three hours it stopped here. DeGraw and Bayard were the other two stops in Morrill county. There is a beet dump at DeGraw and a factory at Bayard.

Omaha Youth Is Killed By Train Near That City

OMAHA, May 7.—Ralph Carlberg, 19, son of C. G. Carlberg, real estate promoter, was killed outright last night by a freight train on which he had hopped for a ride from a sub-division of his father's to his home. No one saw the accident, believed to have occurred about 9 o'clock, and the body was not found until 12:30 this morning.

Young Carlberg graduated from Central high school last June. Besides his parents, three brothers and three sisters survive, including Harvey, University of Nebraska student.

Wife Is Happy--Can Sleep Well Now

Mrs. B. Brinkley is happy again. She writes: "For 6 years I suffered from gas on the stomach, headache and dizziness. The first dose of Adlerika gave relief and now I sleep well and all gas is gone."

Many people keep the OUTSIDE body clean but let their INSIDE body stay full of gas and poisons. Give the inside a REAL cleansing with the mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as sold under the name of Adlerika. This acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel, eliminates metabolic poisons and removes old matter which you never thought was in your system, and which caused sour stomach, nervousness, sleeplessness, headache, etc.

Whenever you eat too much heavy food, let Adlerika REMOVE the undigested surplus and leave you feeling fine. ONE spoonful relieves GAS and takes away that full bloated feeling. Even if your bowels move every day, Adlerika brings out much additional matter which might cause trouble. Don't waste time with pills or tablets but let Adlerika give your stomach and bowels QUICK relief.

What Doctors Say

Dr. G. Eggers reports Adlerika is the best medicine he has used in 37 years.

Dr. W. H. Bernhart writes he could not get along in his practice without Adlerika.

Dr. J. J. Weaver, a doctor for 50 years, says he knows no medicine better than Adlerika.

Dr. L. Langlois prescribes Adlerika regularly with GOOD effect.

J. E. Puckett writes: "After using Adlerika I feel better than for 20 years. ALL IMPURITIES were eliminated from my system."

Adlerika is a big surprise to people who have used only ordinary bowel and stomach medicines, because of its REAL and quick action. Sold by leading druggists everywhere. In Lincoln by Harley Drug Co. and other leading druggists. —Advertisement.

MOORE HEAD OF STATE VETERANS

Commandant At Milford Home Chosen Leader Of Nebraska Grand Army.

Corrick Endorsed For National Commander Of Sons Of Veterans.

HASTINGS, Neb., May 7.—(By the Associated Press)—J. O. Moore of Palmyra, commandant of the soldiers and sailors home at Milford, was elected as commander of the G. A. R. of Nebraska, prior to the close of the fiftieth encampment here Thursday. David Bryson of Hastings, was named senior vice commander. The new officers were installed by O. C. Bell of Lincoln acting as installation officer.

Kearney was selected as the 1927 encampment city and annual meeting place of the allied organizations.

In his annual address, E. F. Brown, commander, reported that the Nebraska department had done everything possible to secure action by congress on the G. A. R bill for the increase of pensions for veterans and widows.

Resolutions were adopted by the six organizations calling special attention to the success of the Hastings meeting, expressing appreciation of the welcome received at Hastings and of the accommodations provided.

The W. R. C. called special attention to the attendance of more than 3,000 children for the parade and the department president announced that silk flags will be presented to each of the 14 rural schools, pupils of which were represented in the parade. A flag also will be presented to the Hastings high school.

The Sons of Union Veterans adopted a resolution endorsing Frank B. Corrick of Lincoln, as a candidate for commander of that organization at the national convention to be held in Des Moines next September 20.

New Officers Chosen.

Fined Every Week But Continues to Run Sunday Show

ROCKWELL CITY, Ia., May 7.—(AP)—R. L. Stewart, movie owner of Manson, and the Rev. J. G. Waterman of that town are threatening to put each other in a squirrel cage. Stewart twice fined $5 and costs in justice court here for operating his movie on Sunday, says that he will continue to profitably violate the "blue" law and pay his fine and the minister says he will continue to bring charges against Stewart.

Each of the two times that Stewart has opened his movie to Sunday patrons, the Rev. Mr. Waterman has come to Rockwell City, filed charges and returned home, passing his opponent in the Sunday show war as the latter is coming here in answer to the justice's telephone call advising that he is charged with breaking the law.

Friends of the pair have suggested that they declare a truce during the trips from Manson to Rockwell City so they may as a matter of economy come in the same car.

FIVE MINERS ARE KILLED IN BLAST

POTTSVILLE, Pa., May 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—Five miners were killed and four injured by an explosion of gas in the South Penn colliery late Thursday. Two of the injured were seriously hurt.

Those who lost their lives were William Colson and his son, Albert; Edward Green, Bruno Tryoko and Albert Primbo.

First reports were that a number of workers had been entombed and the head of the shaft was soon surrounded by weeping women and children. Colliery officials, however, set the rumors at rest by issuing a statement that all had been accounted for. Rescue parties reached the dead and injured without difficulty.

The explosion was said to have been caused by the discharge of dynamite in a gas laden atmosphere.

ENGINEERS HOLD ANNUAL EXHIBIT

Thousands Attend Annual Event At University Thursday Evening.

About 5,000 persons are estimated to have attended the open house of the college of engineering of the University of Nebraska, held Thursday night, which was the feature of the twelfth annual "Engineers' Week."

Exhibits and demonstrations of the equipment were made in several buildings. In the museum the department of geology gave an exhibit of oil geology and a model of a mine, with working shafts and tunnels.

Assay work was explained in the chemistry building, where experiments and lectures were given under the direction of Prof. C. J. Frankforter.

In the mechanical arts building the department of civil engineering and applied mechanics showed various methods of testing material. A motion picture of engineering construction was a feature of the exhibit.

The department of architectural engineering construction was a feature of the exhibit.

The department of architectural engineering had an exhibition of drawings.

The power laboratory showed a manual and an automatic telephone switchboard, together with various insulation tests. Radio station WFAV was also demonstrated.

In the mechanical engineering building the power laboratory, machine shop and foundry laboratory attracted interest, much of the machinery being in operation, supervised by the students.

An experiment in the making of liquid air was performed in the basement, and metals were tested in the metallography laboratory. The boiler room and engine room, which supplies heat and light for the farm and city campuses, were also open for inspection.

The "week" will end Saturday with the annual "Engineers' Field Day" at Antelope park. Fred O. Stenger is chairman of this event. In the evening a banquet will be held at the University club.

Stanley G. Reiff is general chairman of the demonstration; and Homer Scott secretary-treasurer.

Sell Property Of Defunct Railroad

(Special to The Star.)

PAWNEE CITY, Neb., May 7.—The Tate depot and tool house on the defunct Kansas City Northwestern have been sold by E. F. Witte of this city to Frank and Albert Blecha, and a box car left there was bought by William Dzort. These sales are the first transfers of the railroad's property in this county under the action authorized for junking the road.

ROW OVER RAIL LABOR MEASURE

Senator Curtis Doubts Watson-Parker Bill Will Protect Public.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—A row was precipitated in the senate Thursday over whether the Watson-Parker railroad labor bill protected the public interest.

Defending the measure, Senator Watson, republican, Indiana, declared railroad labor disputes had been settled either by "olive branch" or the "club" and he preferred the former.

Doubting that the bill would protect the public, Senator Curtis, one republican leader, offered an amendment authorizing the interstate commerce commission to suspend or modify any wage agreement under its jurisdiction if it did not protect the public interest.

Senator Watson declared the amendment would not cause the commission to degenerate into a body to settle trivial wage disputes. Disputants, h esaid, would not submit their cases to the agencies created by the bill but would go direct to the commission, since it would make the ultimate settlement.

"Where is the public interest protected in the bill?" asked Senator Curtis.

"By the board of mediation and the emergency board which would be composed of representatives of the public," replied the Indiana senator.

"Under this bill a wage agreement could force increased rates," continued Senator Curtis, "and I am opposed to it."

HILTON FOUND GUILTY.

NEW YORK, May 7.—(AP)—Paul E. Hilton, "radio burglar," was found guilty of murder in the first degree by a jury in Queen County court Thursday. He killed Patrolman Arthur Kenney of Brooklyn, in March when Kenney and two other officers tried to capture him. He had been sought for theft of radio sets from numerous homes.

DEATH AT PAWNEE.

(Special to The Star.)

PAWNEE CITY, Neb., May 7.—Mrs. J. H. Montgomery, resident of this city many years, died at her home here, aged 77 years.

What Are You Doing For Your Puny Child?

For weak, frail, under-developed children—and especially those that have rickets, and need a sure builder that promotes the growth of teeth and bones cod liver oil is the one medicine supreme—nothing helps like it.

But it is nasty and repulsive and evil smelling and nearly always upsets children's stomachs — so now up-to-date chemists advise McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound tablets.

Children love them as they do candy, because they are sugar coated and easy to take. One boy gained 11 1-2 pounds in seven weeks, and is now healthy and happy—thousands of other children have grown strong and robust.

Sixty tablets for 60 cents at Harley Drug Co., and all druggists—but be sure and ask for McCoy's—the original and genuine.

Give them to the sickly, frail child for 30 days and if they don't help—wonderfully, your druggist is authorized to hand you back the money you paid for them.—Advertisement.

One to Fourteen Years Given Man Who Stole a Kiss

CHICAGO, May 7.—(AP)—For stealing a kiss, Julius Kessler, 48, was sentenced to serve from one to fourteen years in the penitentiary Thursday after he had been found guilty by a jury on a charge of assault with intent to rob.

Kessler, who faced three robbery indictments, was tried and acquitted on a charge of robbing one girl, who testified he had taken $5. On the second indictment, Miss Josephine Ruley said he held her up, but she had no money and he said he would steal a kiss and did so. On this charge he was found guilty. The third indictment is still pending.

Win Over Aurora In First Round Of State Debate Tournament Here.

Brock, Hastings, Norfolk, North Platte, Hartington Are Other Victors.

Cathedral high school, by a two to one decision, won from Aurora in the first round Thursday evening of the nineteenth state debate tournament of the Nebraska High School Debating league at the University of Nebraska, maintaining the negative of the proposition "that members of the president's cabinet should have the right to the floor of congress."

Brock, on the negative, won from Hebron Academy by a unanimous decision; Hastings, on the affirmative, won from Beatrice, 2 to 1; Norfolk, on the negative, won from Holdrege by a 2 to 1 decision; North Platte, on the affirmative, won from Bayard, by a unanimous decision; Hartington, on the negative, won from Geneva, by a 2 to 1 decision. Omaha Technical drew a bye.

Lot-drawing in the office of the president of the league, Prof. M. M. Fogg, decided the program for Friday morning, at 10 o'clock, as follows, the schools named first maintaining the affirmative: Brock-Omaha Technical, Hastings-North Platte, Norfolk-Cathedral, Hartington drew a bye.

Semi-final lot-drawing for the debates Friday evening was held immediately after the Friday morning contests. The winners of the semi-final debates will draw lots for sides for the final state championship battle at the Temple theater Saturday morning.

The order of speaking and the judges at the five debates follow:

Aurora, west-central district, Roger Thomas, John Grosvenor, Christian Larsen,-Cathedral High, Lincoln, east central, Frank Indovina, Thomas Dowd, Lannie Beilharz. Judges: Prof Ewald T. Gether, department of economics, Nebraska against Iowa, 1921; Prof C. E. McNeill, department of economics, former Doane college debater; Prof. J. O. Rankin, department of rural economics, former Iowa state college debater. Presiding, Edward Jennings, '26, Lincoln, Nebraska against South Dakota, 1826. Decision, Cathedral, 2 to 1.

Hebron Academy, southern district I, Alvin Ehm, Milton Theimer, Martin Bartels-Brock, southeastern district, Edgar Newman, Fred Duey, Ruth Richardson. Judges: J. E. Nebraska Farmers' Appeals For Water Are Disregarded

WASHINGTON, May 7.—(AP)—Notwithstanding that many appeals from farmers on reclamation projects that their crops are being ruined, the interior department has not changed its decision to withhold water from all farmers more than a year behind in payments for water and other charges.

The department contends that no discretion is permitted under the present law. Appeals are reported from farmers of Shoshone, Wyo., and North Platte, Neb., and Wyoming projects, and there are many others from irrigation projects in northern Rocky mountain states.

The reclamation bureau announced its willingnes to accept secured notes in payment of charges and some settlements have been made on that basis.

No Good News.
No Knives, Pistols, Bombs Saklatvala, the Parsee.

By Arthur Brisbane.

The president and all republicans may thank Secretary Work for his effective trip through California and Arizona. He made clear the administration's sincere interest in the Boulder dam project, and its determination to put it through.

The west feels that Calvin Coolidge can and will build the dam. And it will show appreciation in 1928. If Mr. Hughes had had in California such an advance agent as Mr. Work, Woodrow Wilson would have missed one term and history might have been changed considerably. Europe, perhaps, would owe us less money.

No better news from England, except that the government is said to have conferred, unofficially, with Thomas, head of the railway unions the have tied up the country. Baldwin says, "No conference until the strike is called off." The latest is a threat to call out the engineers and firemen from all ships, cutting off Britain from outside food supplies. But union men must eat, that probably would not last

Other countries could send ships and food, but many would be afraid of the effect on their own workmen. Europe's workers are closely united in the conviction that labor is right and should rule.

Here, capital, and "things as they are," are protected by lack of homogeneity of race, language, and belief.

Five million strikers in Britain means 5,000,000 Britishers, all speaking the same tongue and thinking about the same thoughts from birth. There could be no such unanimity here, where locomotive engineers, for instance, have refused to back other railroad men on strike. Any attempt at a nation-wide labor movement here would construct a house divided against itself.

Great Britain's enemies will be disappointed if they expect this so-called British "revolution" to develop the horrors of other revolutions The British do not use knives or pistols, and as for bombs, British labor, like British capital, looks upon them with horror.

And professional bomb experts from Russia and other parts of the continent, that have always found a refuge in England where political opinion is not made a crime, will hesitate to close up that "sanctuary."

Mr. Saklatvala, Parsee, gentleman from India, recently barred from this country for communistic agitation in London, is much less important than some correspondents think. But in his native India, ruled by Britishers thousands of miles away, where 100,000 Englishmen hold down 300,000,000 Hindus and Mohammedans, 10,000 Saklatvalas could scarcely stir a ripple of revolution.

Poor Mr. Ghandi, the Asiatic revolutionist, at home, first starves himself, then goes peaceably to a British jail

One single Parsee transplanted to London can stir up agitation, at least.

To start something you need the right crowd. It is easy to start a fight among bulldogs, very difficult among sheep.

Bernard Shaw says Great Britain must take the coal fields, nationalize and operate them, thus cutting out the industrial cancer that causes so much trouble. "Britain's government must have the courage and the financial intelligence" to do this, says Shaw.

His suggestion will send a shudder through the rich coal mine owners, for, he observes truthfully, "the mine owners themselves will supply money to buy their property, since what they get from the government will be taken from them by collection of the income tax, the super tax on estates, and duties."

How would high finance in America, which sympathizes so sincerely with itself on the income tax question, feel if it were living in Britain?

Operation of coal mines by government under a special branch of civil service may solve this trouble. But no one can tell how far the entering wedge might be driven into the "right of a man to do what he pleases with his own."

More and more that "right" is challenged. Once a man could kill his son if angry with him, for it was his son. That is changed. Once in Britain a land owner could drive thousands from their farms, to make room for a deer forest. It was his own land. He wouldn't dare do that now.

But Britain will proceed slowly with nationalization of mines or anything that would be like "backing down" in the face of a labor union threat.

The government acts, remembering that the great empire in Canada, Africa, India especially, New Zealand, Australia and the rest of the world, must believe the British government to be unmoved by fear of threats

Labor may have to lose this fight, before winning it, to save the face of the government. That may mean a long fight.

ASSAULT CHARGE DENIED BY PAIR

Hearing Of Students Involved In Attempted Robbery Set For May 15.

Jack Darrah and Frank Allen will stand trial on separate charges of assault with intent to commit robbery, they indicated late Thursday afternoon when they were arraigned in municipal court.

Both the young university students pleaded not guilty. They went free on bonds of $5,000 each. Dr. I. C. Munger signed both. The preliminary hearing was set for May 15.

As the result of their alleged attempt to hold up and rob the Cornhusker filling station, Fifteenth and South streets, complaints were filed against the young men Thursday afternoon.

They charge Darrah with felonious assault upon Marion Blake, and Allen with assault on John and Lawrence Faughn. Both indicate an intent to rob the filling station at which Blake, John and Lawrence Faughn were attendants.

Both Blake and the Faughn brothers, however, say Allen was the man who accosted Blake, and then made his escape, and that Darrah "stuck up" the two Faughn brothers in the rear of the filling station.

At the arraignment Thursday afternoon the two young men were brought into the court room by Constable Charles Anderson. Allen and his father, a former state senator, broke down and wept during the arraignment.

May 15 was set as the date for the hearing although it was not entirely satisfactory to either the defense or state counsel. Clark Jeary is representing Allen and Guy Chambers is counsel for Darrah.

WILL TRY FLIGHT IN THE DETROITER

Alaskan Damaged, Captain Wilkins Will Use Three-Engined Monoplane. Remaining Ship Has Failed So Far To Cross Brooks Mountain Range.

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, May 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—With one plane damaged in an attempted take-off Thursday, the Detroit aerial expedition last night prepared to attempt to fly to Point Barrow and over the Arctic ice in the remaining plane, the three-engined Detroiter, as soon as possible.

The Alaskan, which had made three flights to Point Barrow, the Arctic base of the expedition, struck a soft place in the flying field here as Capt. George H. Wilkins, commander of the expedition, and Lieut. Carl B. Eielson, pilot, were starting out on the fourth and final trip to Point Barrow. One wing, the propeller and the landing gear were damaged. It was intended to begin the exploration flights over the "blind spot" in the Arctic ocean when the Alaskan reached Point Barrow.

Plans Early Attempt.

SEATTLE, May 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—The wrecking of the airplane Alaskan Thursday at Fairbanks, Alaska, leaves the Detroit Arctic expedition with the airplane Detroiter, a three-engined monoplane, that so far has not been able to fly over Brooks range between Fairbanks and Point Barrow, Capt. George H. Wilkins plans to hop off as soon as possible in the Detroiter for Point Barrow, a dispatch from the North American Newspaper Alliance at Fairbanks announced after the accident to the Alaskan.

The expedition, in which Lieut. Carl Benjamin Nelson, veteran Alaska flier, was aviator, left here February 13 and February 27. Two airplanes, one having three motors and one a single motor, were unloaded at Fairbanks February 27. At Fairbanks the former plane was christened the Detroiter and the latter the Alaskan.

The Alaskan made three flights from Fairbanks to Point Barrow, 520 miles distant, but the Detroiter attempted that trip and failed April 26 when Wilkins and Eielson, who had gone to Barrow in the Alaskan, had been nine days unreported. With Maj. Thomas G. Lanphier, U. S. A., as navigator and Sgt. Charles M. Viseley, U. S. A., as pilot, the Detroiter set out from Fairbanks to go to the rescue. She moved 100 miles to the region of the Yukon river. Her handlers pronounced it impossible for her to cross Brooks range lying between Fairbanks and Barrow. On that trip she could carry barely enough fuel to reach Barrow.

BURLINGTON SAYS DROP IN BUSINESS

But Revenue About Same Because Of Economies.

CHICAGO, May 7.—(By the Associated Press.) — Despite a decrease in total railway operating revenues of $3,619,700 in 1925, as compared with 1924, the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad Co. was enabled through various economies, chiefly a saving of $3,286,866 in operating expenses, to show a year's decline of only $715,235 in net operating income.

The figures were made public today in the annual statement by Hale Holden, president, for the year ending December 31, 1925.

Total railway operating revenues for 1925 were $159,155,177.85 against $162,674,877.98 in 1924. Total railway operating expenses were respectively $116,671,868.12 and $119,958,734.19.

The net railway operating income for 1924 was $28,742,112.32, while last year it declined to $28,131,917.75.

The president's report noted a falling off of 1,205,193 revenue passengers in 1925 as compared with 1924 and attributed it to "increased use of privately owned and publicly operated automobiles." The average haul of a passenger increased eleven miles, indicating that the lost traffic was in short hauls.

Briefly Told News From The Wires

ANOKA, Minn. — (AP)—Life imprisonment in state's prison was the sentence imposed late Thursday on three men found guilty of bank robbery. A jury found the men—Charles Almy, Tom Tolcord and John Anderson—guilty of holding up the Anoka National bank on December 8, last, when $11,500 was obtained. The trio was arrested February 13 at Shreveport, La. Clarence Eaton of Des Moines, Ia., alleged leader of the bank robbers, will go on trial here Monday.

CHICAGO—(AP)—Western trunk line railroads shipping north of St. Louis, Terre Haute and Kansas City, have been able to show greater earnings than those shipping from points southwest of St. Louis into the same territory, southwestern railroads complained Thursday in a hearing before an examiner for the interstate commerce commission. The southern railroads, including the Santa Fe and Southern Pacific, are contending that shipping rates should be raised for them and put on a more equitable basis. Representatives of the Great Western, Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, and Chicago & Eastern Illinois railroads presented testimony Thursday.

EDINBURGH — (AP) — Disturbances were renewed in and around Edinburgh last evening, the mobs stoning buses and the police charging the mob. Several arrests were made.

COLUMBUS TO BE HOST TO KNIGHTS

Hundreds Of Members Of Order Expected At Convention Next Week.

(Special to The Star.)

COLUMBUS, Neb., May 7.—With advance reservations already made exceeding 200, indications are that attendance at the annual state convention of the Knights of Columbus to be held in Columbus next Monday and Tuesday will pass the 400 mark and that it will be the biggest convention in the history of that order in the state.

Morning and afternoon hours both days will be devoted to business sessions of the convention at which there will be approximately 225 accredited delegates from the various councils in the state. They will be held in the North theatre. At the same time the organization maintained by the financial secretaries of the councils throughout the state will hold separate sessions in the Knights of Columbus hall.

The evenings of the two days will be devoted to social entertainment for the delegates and other visiting knights and their ladies. On the first evening they will be guests of the Columbus council of the order at a moving picture and home talent vaudeville show at the North theatre at which an as yet unreleased film, "The Lucky Lady" will be the picture feature. On the second evening will be held the annual banquet. Plates will be laid for 500 persons, the banquet being served in Hasselbalch's hall, the largest hall in the city.

Special entertainment is being planned for wives of visiting knights who accompany their husbands on the trip to Columbus. On Monday afternoon there will be a card party for those who desire to play, and auto rides about the city for those who would rather spend the afternoon out of doors. A theater party is being planned for them for Tuesday afternoon.

Small Percentage Of Tuberculosis

(Special to The Star.)

AURORA, Neb., May 7.—Under the bovine tuberculosis eradication program in Hamilton county, the per cent infection for the entire county was found to average .79 of 1 per cent. The first test has been made and the federal veterinarian in charge believes that the county can be fully accredited by July 1. It is understood that after the county is accredited the packers will pay 10 cents per hundred on hogs for all animals coming from this territory in addition to the regular price.

Will Build Three Hastings Schools

(Special to The Star.)

HASTINGS, Neb., May 7.—Bids on the three school buildings to be erected here this year will be received on June 1. The estimated cost of the structures is about $460,000 including furnishing. The buildings include a new Longfellow school, a manual arts building and gymnasium, and an addition to the junior high school.

AURORA, Neb., May 7.—President Edwin Dean of Doane college will be the commencement orator at Aurora on the evening of May 26. The exercises will be held in the Christian church.

Capital-Capital Highway Boosted

(Special to The Star.)

PAWNEE CITY, Neb., May 7.—Dr. W. R. Boyer of this city, president of the Capital-to-Capital highway being projected from Lincoln to Topeka, gave out a statement following a meeting at Cook of officers of the new highway association that prospects for state action on the road are favorable. With K. S. Wherry, also of this city and secretary of the organization, Dr. Boyer will start circulation of more petitions for acceptance of the route at meetings soon to be held near Steinauer. From Lincoln, the road runs to Syracuse, Cook, Tecumseh, and Pawnee City, and south of here joins with Kansas state roads.

W. A. HAGUE DEAD.

(Special to The Star.)

WYMORE, Neb., May 7.—William A. Hague, resident of Wymore for the past twenty years died at the home of his son, Will E. Hague, late Wednesday evening. Mr. Hague was past ninety-three years old, being one of the oldest persons in this vicinity. He was born in the east and came to Nebraska about thirty-five years ago, and lived for a time in Lincoln. He lived a retired life in Wymore, passing his time in his garden until recent years when he became unable to do any work. W. E. Hague, the son here, is signal supervisor for the Burlington railway on the Wymore division. The body will be taken to Lincoln for burial. Besides the son here, three married daughters survive, one in Chicago, one in Minneapolis and one in Schuyler.

DIES IN CALIFORNIA.

(Special to The Star.)

Burlington Man's Skull Fractured; Struck By a Car

ALLIANCE, Neb., May 7.—William W. Johnson, 45, Burlington conductor, was injured severely here last night when he was struck by an automobile at a street intersection. He suffered a compound fracture of the skull and body injuries. Johnson was rushed to a local hospital, but he has not regained consciousness. Attending physicians declared his recovery is doubtful.

The automobile was driven by Robert Evans. A driving rain was falling at the time and probably caused the accident.

Value Of Land In Pawnee Increases

(Special to The Star.)

PAWNEE CITY, Neb., May 7.—An upturn in Pawnee county land values is indicated by the sale of the F. L. Jacke 160-acre homestead southeast of this city for $152 per acre to Gus Macik. Improvements on the land are below average value. Another transfer of 80 acres near Lewiston was made for $150 an acre to Rudolph Vocasek of that place.

Griffin Elected Master of Lodge

East Lincoln lodge No. 210, A. F. and A. M., elected Harry O. Griffin worshipful master at a meeting Thursday evening at the temple, Twenty-seventh and S streets. He succeeds Ward E. Simpson in the post. Other officers chosen are Harrison M. Adkins, senior warden; Robert L. Johnson, junior warden; A. Otis Strickler, treasurer; Dr. L. P. Ronne, secretary, and Ward E. Simpson, board of relief.

(Special to The Star.)

BEATRICE, Neb., May 7.—Albion Ritterbush, formerly of this city and better known in Beatrice by his friends as "Butch" Ritterbush, dropped dead at Marshalltown, Ia., yesterday, according to relatives here who left immediately to attend the funeral. He was about forty-five years of age and is survived by his wife and several children.

Morrill County Retiring Bonds

(Special to The Star.)

BRIDGEPORT, Neb., May 7.—Morrill county is gradually working itself out of debt, and is retiring bonds as fast as possible. At the meeting of the board of county commissioners Thursday, it was voted to instruct the treasurer to retire $11,000 worth of bridge and court house bonds, which are optional at this time. This $11,000 almost consumed the cash balance in the county treasury.

Women Need a Mild Laxative -Not a "Physic"

Countless girls and women now know how foolish and needless it is to "purge" and "physic" themselves to avoid sick headache, dizziness, biliousness, sallow skin, colds, or sour, gassy stomach.

They have found that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin helps to establish natural bowel "regularity" even for those heretofore chronically constipated. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin not only causes a gentle, easy bowel movement but, best of all, it never gripes, sickens or upsets the most delicate girl or woman. Besides, it is absolutely harmless and so pleasant that even a cross, feverish, bilious, sick child gladly takes it.

Fined for Possession—Chester Beins was fined $100 for possession and $100 for transportation of liquor when he appeared in municipal court Friday morning. He was arrested at Twenty-seventh and F streets shortly after midnight Thursday. He disclaimed all knowledge of the liquor being in the car, which did not belong to him, but pleaded guilty to the complaint.

Trust Company Answers— The First Trust company filed its answer Friday to the Nebraska Wesleyan University's petition for immediate division of the B. L. Paine estate, nder Mr. Paine's will, the university is one of the residuary legatees, and it claims that there is no reason that the property should be left longer in the hands of the executor. At any time when the heirs can agree on having the property sold, answers the trust company, it is willing to do so.

New Lincoln Corporation—The Knudson Co., organized by N. A. Knudson, Olaf Berggren, and L. T. Fleetwood, with $6,000 of capital stock paid in, is a new Lincoln concern. Its articles were filed Friday with the secretary of state. Another local firm that has become incorporated, with $12,000 stock issue, is Drs. Norden and Perrin, for veterinary practice and conducting a veterinary hospital and the sale of supplies. Its members are Carl J. Norden, Floyd Perrin, and Lester M. Buckley.

Hearing on Compensation—Judge Stewart began a hearing Friday morning of the Forburger Stone company's appeal from a large compensation award made by the state commissioner to Daniel Campbell. Mr. Campbell asserts that while he was employed by the stone works last July, he strained himself as he lifted a heavy stone and was thus permanently injured. He was granted $15 a week for 300 weeks, and then $12 a week for the rest of his life. The stone company asserts that he was not really injured and that he gave no proper notice of his injury.

City to Appeal In Bullock Case

Deputy City Attorney Wilke said Friday that he will appeal to the Supreme court from the District court decision that enjoins the city from collecting special assessments on property in the vicinity of Thirty-fifth and X streets

The case followed construction of an overhead railroad bridge across Thirty-fifth street at the time the Idylwild drive district was paved. It was brought by Flora Bullock and Edna Bullock and others who claimed the city had no right to assess part of the cost of the bridge against the paving district.

This will be the third case the city has in the Supreme court. The others are the attack of the Standard Oil company on the municipal filling station, and a suit in which the city maintains that uncollected water rentals become a lien against the property.

Thirteen city cases are pending in the District court. They are mostly small equity actions. There is also one damage action in which the city and the General hospital are made defendants on a $25,000 claim.

Deaths

Word was received Friday morning of the death of Mrs. Robert J. Flick, formerly of Lincoln, at Kansas City. The body will be brought to Lincoln Sunday and funeral services will be held at the home of her sister, Mrs. Charles M. Keefer, 620 South Twenty-eighth street, at 3 p. m., in charge of Rev. Walter Aitken. Burial will be in Wyuka. Besides her husband and sister, Mrs. Flick leaves her mother, Mrs. Laura F. Ashton of Lincoln, and two brothers, Charles H. Ashton of Los Angeles and George F. of Omaha.

Judge Alonzo Pinzon Tarbox, 80 years old, veteran of the Civil war, died at 1:30 a. m., Friday at the Milford soldier's home. Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Saturday at the home, 217 West Twenty-third street, University Place. Sons of Veterans will be pallbearers. Burial will be in Wyuka. Mr. Tarbox is survived by his wife, Marcella C.

Betty Joe, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman A. Sipp, died at the home at Pleasantdale at 8:15 a. m., Friday. Funeral services will be held at the home Sunday and burial will be in Wyuka.

The body of Rosa A. Zelger is at the home, 2636 P street, pending funeral arrangements.

Funeral services for Marie Elizabeth Pabst were held at 2 p. m., Friday at the Lutheran Emanuel Evangelical church, in charge of Rev. W. F. V. Baeder. Burial was in Wyuka.

The body of Estus Becker is at Henry Brown's pending arrangements.

About People

Lou W. Frazier, publisher of the Fillmore County Chronicle at Fairmont, who enjoys the distinction of having been continuously in the same print shop longer than any other man in the newspaper business in Nebraska was in Lincoln during the day and called on friends at the capitol, accompanied by Mrs. Frazier and their son, Donald, superintendent of the material and repair yard for the state public works department.

Last week's issue of Mr. Frazier's paper on May 1, commemorated the 54th anniversary of its founding. He began work for it as a printer's assistant 42 years ago, and has been its owner and publisher over forty years. The Chronicle was the first newspaper established in Fillmore county.

During a period of 6 years, from 1903 to 1909, Mr. Frazier held the position as state printing commissioner for Nebraska but he personally supervised the publications of his paper all the time, as his presence in Lincoln was required only a day or two of each week.

He is here for the Shrine ceremonial.

State Superintendent Matzen has recovered from his illness with intestinal influenza, after spending nine days in a hospital, and returned to his office Furday. This is the first time within his recollection that he has ever been compelled to leave his work on account of sickness, except one day 18 years ago when he suffered an attack of acute indigestion while serving as county superintendent of Dodge county, at Fremont.

J. C. Lee of Hastings, who likes to have people call him "Charlie," was shaking hands with state house friends Friday and reminding them he is a candidate in the republican primary for state auditor. He is a well known traveling man, a member of the 1925 legislature, and a past state commander of the Sons of Veterans.

Why Starve Yourself To Reduce?
Why not give a chance to SILPH?—See what it can do for you—You chew SILPH like ordinary Gum!
SAFE—EASY—PLEASANT
No diets—No exercises—No dangerous drugs

There is now on the market a Gum called "SILPH," which has been used in the last year or so for reducing — It is a delightfully refreshing chew.
There are no impossible over night reductions claimed for SILPH—but fat people should chew it regularly 3 or 4 times a day and watch the effect on their weight. Men use it as well as women and it seems to give them very gratifying results.
Try it yourself today, but do not accept a cheaper imitation as SILPH is sold with a guarantee of satisfaction or money refunded. Comes in a handy, GREEN box—at all good drug or dept. stores—sells for 50c; comes in one size only. If your druggist is out of it send direct to the SILPH CO., 9 W. 40th Street, New York City.
On sale at Harley's, Piller's, Meier's, Sun or Terminal Ddug Stores.

Peals of Laughter! See 'Partners Again" At The Lyric Today and Saturday.

Smiles! Laughs! Roars! Thrills! Spasms! Sensations! You'll regret it if you miss the big entertaining program at the Lyric last times today and Saturday. "Partners Again" with George Sidney and Alexander Carr is a continuous round of laughter and thrills. "Moving Day" is another laugh riot, based on "The Married Life of Helen and Warren." Visualized news, cartoons, novelties, the Orthophonic vocal selection, and, on the stage, the Vera Walton trio, presenting "Song Comparisons" make the program worth while.

"Yellow Fingers" And "Among Those Present" Crowding The Colonial.

The screen's newest star, Olive Borden, in a stirring romance of the South Sea islands, "Yellow Fingers;" Harold Lloyd in his hilariously funny picture, "Among Those Present;" and "Fighting Hearts," a whirlwind of action and fun are taxing the capacity of the Colonial this week.

All New York Talking About "The Sap" Which Comes To The Lyric Next Week.

Not for many a moon have the critics of the metropolitan papers praised a picture like they have "The Sap," the story of a 'fraid cat who became a hero. See it at the Lyric next week.

A New And Gigantic Production of "Quo Vadis" Comes To The Orpheum Next Week.

A new picturization of "Quo Vadis" is the most gorgeous spectacle ever presented on the screen. It is filled with thrills of the arena, where Christian martyrs were burned or thrown to the lions. A colossal drama with Emil Jennings and a cast of twenty thousand.

Val & Ernie Stanton Headline a Big Bill of Fun and Music at The Liberty.

There is a jolly good program of fun and music at the Liberty. The audience enjoyed the splendid offerings of Val and Ernie Stanton, a duo of excellent comedians who know how to extract hearty laughter. The International Jazz Revue, an octette of versatile instrumentalists from China, Turkey, Mexico, India, etc., featuring Stan Mitchell and Flo Eckert fast novelty dancers received a storm of applause; George Ford and Flo Cunningham delighted all with their comedy skit; Della O'Dell performed some startling feats and Wise and Janese kept up the laughter with their auto travesty.

"Spooks" Tonight At The Orpheum. Only Two Days In Which to See Terrific Drama of Ghostly Thrills.

You'll want to be in your seat tonight when the "Spooks" start working tonight at the Orpheum. From the time of the most unusual opening you ever saw, there is a rapid building up of climaxes, strange, mysterious deaths, supernatural rumblings, banging doors and muffled gasps of terror. But running through it all is a vein of laughing comedy that makes you laugh as you have never laughed before. About the time you expect a ghostly hand to be laid upon your shoulder, you have to burst into a roar of laughter that drives the "Spooks" away for another few minutes. "Spooks" is an unusual play, in fact so unusual that its appearance here is limited to three performances, and if you don't see it tonight or tomorrow you miss half your life. The curtain rises at 8:20.

To the People of This Community.

Lincoln Post No. 3 of the American Legion will present to you on Friday and Saturday nights and Saturday matinee, our annual show, "Spooks" is given as a Legion benefit by the University Players, under the able direction of Miss H. Alice Howell. As members of the largest World War veterans organization we have attempted to so conduct ourselves, as to merit the support of each of you. It is our desire to serve in a definate, tangible way. We believe that you desire to encourage us by a large attendance at our show. You are assured of a pleasant, enjoyable evening and you will surely be aiding in a worthy cause. We feel certain that the citizens of Lincoln are with us.

JOHN E. CURTISS,
Commander.

Special Mother's Day Matinee at the Lincoln Theater Saturday Morning at 10 a. m.

All "Gold Star Mothers" and all mothers of Lincoln are invited to be the guests of the Lincoln Theater to a special "Mother's Day" matinee Saturday morning at 10 a. m.

The Lincoln theater wants the mothers to leave the young folks at home for once, slip quietly down town by themselves and enjoy a splendid program. Mother's day, by the way, comes on Sunday, May 9.

Now Mothers, don't forget Saturday morning, 10 a. m.

Don't Forget to Make Your Arrangements to be at the Rialto Theater Friday Night.

You know why. "Discovery Night." We will try out new talent. We have the greatest program arranged you ever saw. Don't forget to come. You will not regret it. These acts will appear at one show only and that will be 8:30 p. m.

Ceremonial For Shrine Novitiates

The spring ceremonial of Sesostris temple, Ancient Arabic Order Nobles of the Mistic Shrine, began Friday afternoon at the Scottish Rite cathedral, where a large class of candidates was entrusted with the secrets of the first degree. This part of the ceremony will be followed by a banquet to be served at the same place at 6:30 to the novitiates and members of the Shrine. The new members of the order will be led across the burning sands at the auditorium during the evening and night, it being authoritatively announced by J. Cass Cornell, potentate, and Frank DuTeil, in charge of the wreckers, that the ordeal in store for the pilgrims is a particularly arduous one

Ranchman Out For Treasurer

Earl Conner, Banner county ranchman, who gets his mail at the little postoffice of Reding, has decided to become a candidate for state treasurer in the democratic primary. His filing papers reached Secretary of State Pool and were duly recorded Friday morning. Conner is the first man to enroll for state treasurer on hte democratic ticket, but there will be others.

He was reared on a farm near Auburn and lived at that place until 1923, when he removed to the ranch in western Nebraska. He was elected twice as treasurer of Nemaha county and is familiar with the methods of handling public funds.

MILLING INQUIRY REPORT IS MADE

Partial Findings Charge Activities To Restrict Competition.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—Activities to restrict competition among flour millers are charged in a preliminary report on the milling and bread making industries made public today by the federal trade commission. It reserves final conclusions, asserting that refusal of certain concerns to furnish data was blocking inquiry into competitive conditions.

The inquiry was made under a senate resolution and the commission said its partial report "presents in detail extensive documentary evidence already obtained relating to alleged violations of the anti-trust laws by certain corporations and indications conscious attempts to evade the said laws."

Doane Trackmen Make Ready For Sioux City Meet

CRETE, Neb., May 7.—The Doane college track squad faces a strenuous test Saturday at Sioux City. Morningside is sponsoring a tri-state invitation meet, in which teams already enrolled are Morningside, Buena Vista and Western Union of Iowa; Yankton and Columbia of South Dakota; Wayne, Midland and Doane of Nebraska. Buena Vista is expected to offer the strongest competition, as the Beavers won four of five relays in the college section at the Dakota relays last Saturday.

In the Doane trials held this week some good performances have been turned in. Alf led the dash men with a ten second hundred, followed closely by Graves, McKenzie and Simon. Phil Taylor led the high hurdlers with a mark of 16 1-10 seconds, his best performance to date. McKenzie and Abbott were not competing in the hurdle trials. Geer led the qualifiers in the high jump with a mark of 5 feet 3 inches. Booth and Kubicek followed closely.

Booth Best In Shotput.

An encouraging development has been taking place in the shot put. Booth leads with a put of 39 feet 10 1-2 inches, while Park got an even 39 feet. Booth also led the discus performers with a heave of 116 feet 5 inches. Park got 115 feet 5 inches and Kubicek 114 feet 9 inches.

The distancemen are rounding into better shape, but this department is still below the standard of the rest of the team. Captain Graves, France, Laase and Perry will undoubtedly give a good account of themselves in the 440 and half. Paul Taylor and Scheer led the pole vaulters with vaults of 10 feet 6 inches. This is well under their best marks.

City Briefs

"Vegetable Charcoal" Tested—Chemist Batty of the state food, drug and oil bureau has analyzed a sample of so-called "vegetable charcoal" being sold to live stock growers for mixing with feed, and finds it to contain 77 per cent of soil elements. Real charcoal is made from soft wood and is almost pure carbon. The mineral substitute, Mr. Batty says, is produced by burning a kind of muck, containing humus material and does not possess the same properties as charcoal, although it resembles that article.

Judge A. P. Tarbox, Civil War Vet, Lincoln Pioneer, Is Dead

Alonzo P. Tarbox, 80, died Friday morning at the Milford soldiers home following an illness of about three months. He had been ailing, however, for the last three years. He leaves his widow.

Mr. Tarbox was a veteran of the Civil war having served with Co. F of the Twenty-eighth Maine infantry and later with troop I of the Second Maine cavalry. He came to Nebraska after the war and located in Lincoln in 1866.

He made his home in Lincoln until 1916 when he moved to University Place. He was a member of Farragut post, G. A. R. and of the University Place Masonic lodge.

Mr. Tarbox engaged in business at different times and was once deputy sheriff, and was police judge in University Place about four years.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2:30 at the home 217 West Twenty-third street. Burial in Wyuka.

Auburn Lawyer May Help In Oil Suit

Attorney Edgar Ferneau of Auburn called on Attorney General Spillman at the capitol Friday morning and was closeted with the latter for more than an hour, which gave rise to the rumor that he has been called in to assist the attorney general in the trial of his injunction suit against the Standard Oil Co. to stop the alleged price discriminations, scheduled for next Monday in district court at Auburn.

Mr. Spillman visited that place on Thursday and was reported to be collecting evidence in the case. He declined to say Friday just what his line of proof would cover, or whether Ferneau would participate in the trial.

Mr. Ferneau is prominent in legal and political circles. He served in the 1920 constitutional convention and has filed this year as a republican candidate of the state senate in the first district.

CATTLE TESTED

There were 3,924 breeding and dairy cattle officially tested for tuberculosis in Lancaster county, in territory east, west and southeast of Lincoln during the month of April, according to the records in State Veterinarian Hays' office. Among that number 9 were reactors. Three to six veterinarians were employed in this work.

The number of herds examined in that territory during April was 733, tubercular infection being found in 61 of them.

"THIS IS CIVIL WAR."

A graphic picture of London in the grip of a nation-wide strike is that descriptive story which W. R. Watson, the managing editor of the Omaha World-Herald, cables to his newspaper.

One of the greatest cities in the world has been carried backward a hundred years. There are no newspaper. Travel is most difficult and uncertain Food supplies, for the present adequate for all needs, are being brought in only through the most heroic efforts. This return to conditions prevalent before modern science provided so many conveniences and comforts for unthinking people, is modified only to the extent that radio and meager telegraphic bulletins, posted in prominent places, keep London informed on events within its own borders and in the outside world.

Probably the people of London, accustomed as they were to their newspapers, have reflected for the first time how vital the newspaper is to modern existence. The fact that the strike has resulted in suppression of the newspapers has angered the public more than any other hardship or inconvenience it has been forced to put up with in connection with the cessation of activities, Mr. Watson said in his cable, and is seen by many as a grave mistake on the part of labor.

"With stolid, determined faces the Britishers are facing the situation resolutely. 'It is not a strike. It is civil war,' declares the business man, and our guide repeats the sentiment."

There are forty-five millions of people in the British isles. Less than four million workers, comprising the membership of the unions, are out on a strike. With their families, they are a minority in Great Britain. And yet the population of the entire country will suffer annoyances, and hardship, and in a great many cases heavy financial loss and grave physical inconvenience because labor has decreed its strike.

Government exists for the protection of society. In every government the individual sacrifices for the welfare of the mass. Labor in Great Britain has overlooked the fact that it has no rights superior to the rights of the great mass of people. When it plans and executes a program which works incalculable suffering and hardship on a section of the population vastly larger in numbers than itself, then it alienates the natural sympathies which have always been accorded it. Two brief days of a nation-wide strike in Britain have demonstrated that British labor has overplayed its hand.

The strike in London and in other parts of the British isles is not different from other labor disturbances which have preceded it. There has been some violence; there will be more unless there is a speedy termination of the trouble. The right of a man to refuse to work at a certain occupation has been generally recognized in all civilized countries. That is not where the trouble arises. The British striker is not content to suspend his own activities. He insists that others shall not work. When he attempts to prevent others from performing the duties which he himself performed, he is infringing upon their constitutional rights. That is why the British strike resolves itself into civil war. Britain has determined to go ahead notwithstanding the walkout of four million workers. The wants and the needs of her population will be cared for although those who formerly provided for them refuse to do so longer. Organized society cannot exist in any land where the rights of the majority do not supersede the interests of the minority, however powerful, when the latter, through action, attempt to overturn that principle, civil war results.

AMERICA'S FORTUNATE POSITION.

From a station of comparative security and tranquility, and in the midst of its own prosperity, the United States loks out upon a world seething with unrest, discontent, suspicion and armed strife. Not even during the World war was this nation more favored by its remoteness from the scenes of bloody conflict than by the immunity from civic and economic troubles which its people are enjoying at this time, when many other nations are all but overwhelmed with their troubles or harassed by the fear of evil designs harbored against them by their neighbors.

In Great Britain, industrial and commercial life are paralyzed by the general strike which has thrown millions of people out of employment and cut off their incomes. France is struggling in a financial morass but seems only to get in deeper and deeper. Italy has passed under a dictatorship with the result that freedom of speech and action no longer exist and murder as a means of getting rid of its critics is condoned by the government. Spain and Greece are following in Italy's footsteps. Turkey continues its policies of driving out or exterminating Christian populations. In the Riff region of northern Africa warfare is still going on between the tribesmen and the armies of France and Spain, while Italian troops are prosecuting a similar campaign in Somaliliand. Syrian disorders have not abated, and the Balkans still threaten troublous developments.

In China, where civil government long ago gave way to the rule of brigand chieftains, there is constant warfare between the contending forces; and whichever element gains the ascendancy from time to time proceeds to levy tribute upon the people. British India is split up into factional divisions by the Swaraj movement and the religious differences of its Hindu and Mohammedan populations.

As a background for this depressing picture, the sinister figure of soviet Russia stands ready to do anything it can in fomenting discord wherever possible with the object of overthrowing society in its present form and setting up the proletarian dictatorship after the pattern of Moscow. Russian agents are scattered all over the world to sow the seeds of disaffection and nourish them into revolutionary growth.

Even the western hemisphere is affected by the widely prevalent conditions of national jealousies and economic discontent. Chile and Peru cannot agree on a settlement of their long-standing dispute over Tacna-Arica, even with the disinterested assistance of the United States. Civil war has broken out in Nicaragua. Haiti and San Domingo have been so turbulent for several years as to call for armed intervention by this country.

Verily, it seems that the American people have much to be thankful for in the absence of such social and political convulsions as are manifesting themselves over a large part of the globe. Our disagreements over the tariff, railroad rates, "farm relief," and such matters seem trivial when contrasted with the oppressive conditions and economic handicaps under which so many other countries are struggling.

If it were not for the numerous gang murders being committed in our metropolitan cities, and the growth of crime generally in the United States, we should have nothing of very serious consequence to disturb us. Just now, the menace of these "leagues of death" in the great population centers constitutes the most disquieting factor in American life.

EXPERT WITNESSES.

Once again has Nebraska been treated to an object lesson which should impress upon the people of the state the desirability if not the necessity of having those medical experts who are to testify in cases, appointed by the court and their compensation fixed by the same authority. In the Davis murder trial, now at or near its end at McCook, supposedly reputable physicians, men of standing and reputation in their various communities, gave widely varying testimony.

This state of affairs is nothing unusual, for within the last few weeks, in two other celebrated cases in Nebraska the same thing has occurred and in fact it is going on all over the country all of the time. Lawyers seem to be able to get expert medical witnesses to back any hypothesis which they may desire to have substantiated and the consequence is that jurors are left in hopeless quandaries after all of the testimony is in.

And it is possible to believe that all of these doctors are honest in the conclusions they claim to have reached, for it is not pretended that medicine is an exact science. Physicians of the highest standing may conscientiously differ in their diagnosis of cases and as to the causes responsible for certain stated symptoms.

Physicians know, however, which side a lawyer is on and the doctor is aware that when an attorney interested in a case presents him with a hypothetical question, based on that lawyer's theory, that a good fee will be forthcoming if the question is answered to the satisfaction of the attorney presenting the question. And it is a fact known to all that both sides in every trial involving questions of pathology, diagnosis or other questions having to do with the science or practice of medicine is able to get just as many expert witnesses as it desires.

The way to solve this problem and to relieve one of the oldest, most honorable and most useful of professions of any possible taint of scandal, is to place all expert testimony in the hands of the court, the witnesses to be appointed and their compensation fixed by the trial judge. When this is done jurors will know that the witness is not biased and that the testimony reflects the real conclusions of the man upon the stand. This will be better for the physician, and certainly much better for the public.

A RIDDLE FOR THE CRIMINOLOGIST.

Two young men, students of the University of Nebraska, are facing serious charges because, it is alleged, they armed themselves with revolvers and deliberately attempted to rob a gasoline filling station.

The situation is another illustration of the amazing development of crime in recent years.

It is not difficult to understand how the youth, brought up in the crowded tenements of the great cities, amid squalor and abject poverty, with the knowledge that those he loves are facing hardship and hunger, might be impelled to rob. But it is a puzzle to understand those strange impulses which lead young men of respectable families into situations similar to the one presented in this case. They have every advantage of home and family. They have the advantage of education which, if it means anything at all, should instill reverence for law, respect for obedience and discipline, and the inspiration to live sane, orderly and decent lives.

Sometimes we are brought to the inevitable conclusion that perhaps in our devotion to education we have placed a halo about it. The mere fact that a man or a woman may complete the courses of study in the higher institutions of learning is not significant unless put to practical use. Nor will it unlock the doors to financial success or material prosperity unless the one seeking it is willing to take the same sacrifices and the same productive effort as the man or woman who starts without the advantage of education.

THE EMPTY BUILDINGS.

Elsewhere on this page will be found a communication from C. L. Rein, with reference to the proposed mill levy increase which will be voted upon at an election within a few weeks.

Mr. Rein asserts that in sixteen years he has not seen so many vacant stores and apartments as exist today. He reports that daily he passes "fleets of empty houses in which the creeping earth worm and the gloomy cockroach are the sole tenants of the denuded window box." Mr. Rein concludes Lincoln is vastly overbuilt.

Evidently he is in possession of superior information to that which most people house-hunting in this city have been able to uncover. There is a minimum number of desirable residence properties for rent in this city. If Mr. Rin doubts it, let him try to rent a house which he would consider suited to his needs.

In spite of a very active building program in Lincoln for the last three years, there is a surprisingly small number of untenanted homes and business properties. That fact has been the most amazing feature of all. Nor is there any indications at present that the demand for new homes has been fully supplied. Mr. Rein has been shutting his eyes to the growth and progress which Lincoln has made. It has increased in population beyond the most optimistic expectations and it is continuing to attract many people who desire to make their home within its borders.

Mr. Rein draws a picture of home-owning which is unfair. In comparison to other cities in this section of the country, of equal size, Lincoln occupies a most enviable position in the matter of the tax burden. The contemplated increase upon which the voters will pass approximates 10 per cent. When it is realized that this will take care of many very pressing needs, which otherwise will invoke bond issues, with the evil of costly interest, those who have in mind the future growth of Lincoln should hesitate to reject it.

Homely Philosophy.

HOW YOU CAN PROTECT YOURSELF CONCERNING DOUBLE PAYMENT OF BILLS.

Are you constantly worried by having bills come in to be paid which you feel sure you did pay?

Doesn't this cause you to have unpleasant scenes at home and sharp words exchanged elsewhere whenever you get one of these bills which you think you have paid?

There have been times when the other person was able to convince you that it was your own mistake; but usually you believe that someone is trying to "do" you and you are indignant.

Now instead of having so much to say and think about on this score why don't you begin to pay by check and keep your vouchers.

There is no gainsaying a check with its own acknowledgement in return.

It does not matter whether the one from whom you purchase gives you a receipt or not, if you keep your checks.

Protect yourself against your own forgetfulness and against the annoyance of being asked to pay twice.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS.

Superfluous Hair.

From all I have read and heard, there is no permanent cure for superfluous hair except the electric needle. The X-rays are not without danger, even in the hands of a competent physician, and are especially dangerous when given by inexperienced operators. Aside from danger, they are not effective in removing the hairs, according to several skin specialists.

Cause.—In some cases of superfluous hair, there is known to be some disorder of the internal glands, and effective treatment directed against this disorder will remove the superfluous hair. Other cases may be a racial or family trait and so are inheritable.

Jackson, in his textbook on skin diseases, says that he believes face creams do not affect the growth of hairs. However, he has noticed that there will be an extra growth of hair on parts that have been poulticed for some time, so that heat and moisture apparently have some growth-stimulating effect.

If there are only a few hairs, they can be clipped as they grow or else pulled out by the root, either singly or by depilatories. Getting it out by the root, of course, keeps the hair off longer than clipping or shaving. Either method probably coarsens the hair somewhat but it is the lesser of two evils.

For coarse hairs that are far apart, Long advises the use of the electric needle. If there are both coarse and fine hairs that are conspicuous, the combination of the electric needle and the depilatory can be used. Most standard depilatories on the market are dependable. If you wish to have one put up, the following is one I have taken from a standard textbook on skin diseases:

Depilatory (For External Use Only.)

3 drams each of:
Sulphide of barium
Oxide of zinc
Oxide of starch

Mix with warm water to a paste that will not run. Spread on the part and leave until it begins to burn a little. It may have to be moistened once during this period. Scrape off and wash. Then apply a soothing cream.

Notice the formula is for external use only.

No Babies.

Mrs. H. writes that she is very unhappy. She is 20 years old, has been married for three years and has not had a child. She is troubled with constipation and is taking some patent olive oil tablets and one other well advertised woman's medicine. As it is hard for her to get green vegetables, her diet consists of soft boiled eggs, potatoes, meat and bread, with very little milk, butter or cream.

There are numerous causes for sterility, Mrs. H. One of them is the absence of vitamins in the diet. You are getting precious few of them, and this probably accounts for your constipation and perhaps for your sterility, also. Cut out the patent medicines entirely, and have many more green vegetables and fresh fruit and milk and cream which all contain the vitamins. If you cannot get the fresh vegetables where you are, you certainly can get the canned or dried and you can get canned or dried milk. The newer methods of canning now cause less destruction of the vitamins than the older methods. The canned or dried tomatoes and spinach seem apparently to retain their vitamins always. You ought to be able to get fresh cabbage and some other fresh vegetables.

You are very young yet, Mrs. H., so do not be discouraged. You should go to a good physician and have a thorough examination anyway. We all should have periodic health examinations, at least once a year. Also, send your husband to be examined. He may have some trouble causing the sterility.

We have an article on constipation and one on balanced diet which you may have by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request. (Allow at least two weeks for receipt of these.)

Tomorrow—Ten Commandments for Parents.

My dear Followers:

When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to enclose a STAMPED, SELF-ADDRESSED envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose TEN cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, NOT OVER 200 WORDS, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the STAMPED, SELF-ADDRESSED ENVELOPE if you expect me to send you the information offered.

The worst joke I heard today was told to me by Mr. McLaughlin, the automobile manufacturer of Oswa, Canada. I was up in Toronto the other day and they had just passed a bill by the Canadian parliament that automobiles were to be brought in from the States at 15 per cent less duty than they had been. Well, Mr. McLaughlin is the maker of the only Canadian made car, the "McLaughlin," and is also interested in lots of American made cars that are partly made and assembled up there. Well this of course just amout puts the automobile business out of Canada. He was feeling pretty blue when I was there for he has done an awful lot for his town and Canada and it did look like they could have encouraged home industries. They have a great country up there and some great people. Canada has more natural resources than any country there is, I think. He told me this English story:

A young curate had by undue influence just been appointed to Windsor Castle. Finally he came to an older minister friend and siad: "Everybody else has failed and I am assigned to preach the sermon—Queen Victoria will be there. What am I to do?" My young friend, if you preach 30 minutes Her Majesty will be bored, if you preach 15 minutes Her Majesty will be pleased, if you preach 10 minutes Her Majesty will be delighted." "But," said the preacher, "what am I to preach in ten minutes time?" "Well," said the adviser, "that will be a matter of utter indifference to Her Majesty."

Against High Taxes.

LINCOLN, Neb., May 5, 1926.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star:

I wonder whether the tax-paying voters of Lincoln will stay home on election day and allow the friends of more taxes to get away with the charter amendment to increase the city levy limit.

Unlike Major Cowgill, I can't claim sufficient knowledge of city management to question intelligently the expenditures made and to be made by the city council. But I do insist that at the present time it is a great waste to have the minds of councilmen employed in thoughts of larger money needs. In sixteen years I have not seen in Lincoln so many vacant stores and apartments as I see today. As an unorganized walker, I go by fleets of empty houses in which the creep-earthworm and gloomy cockroach are the sole tenants of the denuded window box. The city is vastly over-built, and many nominal housowners make poor partners for the mortgage company. With less rent and more taxes, how can property-ownership in Lincoln be made to pay. And if owning property in Lincoln doesn't pay, what have we here that does pay? Instead of invading the unhappy property-owner's camp with an army of higher taxes, the city council should quietly reverse gears and retrench with Coolidge.

CLIFFORD L. REIN.

OFFICERS STONED.

BALTIMORE, May 7.—(AP)—Three plain clothes policemen and three railroad detectives were stoned and beaten by a mob of 500 negroes Thursday afternoon when they arrested a white man for railroad thefts in South Baltimore. The leaders of the negroes, rounded up later, said they mistook the officers for prohibition agents. Harry Sody, the prisoner, did not escape.

Home Precepts

(To prevent recurring crops of criminals.)

Parents, teach your children to tell the truth, even against themselves without fear of the rod for it:

To be faithful and true in any employment because it is right, and also generally leads up to promotion—

To know that only that one earns and uses well is really his own, and then he gains more than he knows—

To have respect for law because without it civil justice and its order could not be assured in society—

To believe that men in all occupations generally intend to be honest because they know that it is best—

To remember that "A good name is better than wealth" because it insures enough and aid in time of need—

To avoid tobacco and alcoholic drinks because they are injurious with habits compelling a money waste—

To shun wrong company and lewd amusements because they weaken what is good and strengthen what is bad—

To guard the secret life from personal and social abuse that happy and stable marriage may be possible—

To do nothing to others that they would not want done to them, but the reverse, this is the Golden Rule—

To esteem the Bible as the best and surest Guide to high ideals, right living and enduring happiness.

If in addition you will lead your children to church and Subbath school they will certainly go right. Then low living with its high money and moral cost would end.

What Is An Ideal Investment?

MARK W. WOODS

Many people believe that a low interest rate determines the security of an investment. For this reason many investment houses arbitrarily lower their interest rates. Careful investors know that higher rates can be had and still get the very best security. For instance, Lincoln Telephone & Telegraph Company stock, Creamery Company stock and many other sound and seasoned stocks that pay from 6 per cent to 8 per cent.

Discriminating investors analyze their investments and do not take it for granted that because an interest rate is low or high that the investment is either good or bad. They consider first, whether the company is seasoned, that is, whether it has been in business fifteen or twenty years, and through this period of time has been successful. They consider the personnel of the company, that is, whether there is any moral hazard and whether or not the officers have ability and integrity. Next they consider the earning record. Has the company through a period of years paid its dividends regularly and laid by a surplus for hard times. They then consider the security back of the investment.

When all of these different requirements are combined in one company, together with a 7 per cent or 8 per cent dividend rate, it makes the ideal investment for people who really want their money to work profitably, earning a rate of interest each dollar is entitled to.

A careful study of the conditions of Woods Brothers Corporation will prove to the most discriminating investor that the stock offers ample security, a fair rate of interest, assurance of continued payment of dividends, and an opportunity of increasing the value of their investment.

An analysis of the recent audit made by Arthur Andersen & Company of Chicago, together with the appraisal made by the American Appraisal Company of Milwaukee, of the Woods Brothers Corporation, will convince you that the shares of this corporation are the ideal investment and contain all the essentials set forth above.

HEADQUARTERS OF G. A. R. STAY HERE

Attempt to Move Office to Omaha Meets Failure.

Lincoln People Honored In Elections at State Encampment.

State headquarters of the G. A. R. will remain in Lincoln, at the rooms in the capitol provided for its occupancy, as a result of the election of J. O. Moore, commandant at the Milford soldiers' home, as department commander. State Adjutant H. M. Bross has been reappointed in his position and will continue in charge of the headquarters.

The Omaha delegation at the state G. A. R. encampment held in Hastings this week engineered a move to take the headquarters to that city; but its candidate for department commander was defeated by a vote of 2 to 1.

The women's relief corps and daughters of veterans will also maintain their Nebraska headquarters in Lincoln as heretofore.

Farragut post, of this city, with its drum corps and vocal quartet, had the largest attendance at Hastings of any post in the state.

The W. C. T. U. which now numbers about 5,000 members in Nebraska, unanimously elected Mrs. Mary Weakley of Lincoln as its president for the ensuing year. Mrs. Weakley for many years has rendered important service in Farragut corps, No. 10, and also in the department.

The Daughters of Veterans elected Mrs. Emma Sussong of the Lincoln tent as department president for the ensuing year, with Nellie East of Lincoln, as delegate-at-large.

Mrs. Diener Jones, Ladies of G. A. R., was elected department instructor for the ensuing year.

Henry V. Hoagland, of Farragut post was elected delegate-at-large, having the largest vote of anyone in the encampment. He is also department chaplain for the ensuing year.

Jacob Fawcett, former judge of the supreme court, heads the council of administration, and is also judge advocate for the ensuing year.

The camp fire assembly on Wednesday evening heard him recite once more, "We have drank from the same canteen."

O. C. Bell and J. N. Fletcher, both of Farragut post, were re-elected on the council administration. Andy Church, of the same post, is officer of the day for the next year.

Retiring Department Commander E. F. Brown, of Lincoln, came back from the encampment loaded with testimonials of his service, both in the G. A. R. organizations and as a long time engineer of the Missouri Pacific. Following the presentation of the G. A. R. jeweled badge a Missouri Pacific official gave a glowing account of Commander Brown's service with the road.

Sinclair Lewis Further Explains Refusal Accept Pulitzer Award

NEW YORK, May 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—Sinclair Lewis has declined the 1925 Pulitzer prize of $1,000, awarded for his novel "Arrow Smith."

It is his opinion that all prizes and honors tend to set up arbitrary literary standards by which "compulsion is put upon writers to become safe, polite, obedient and sterile."

He would sound the death knell of any and everything smacking of literary oligarchy, in a letter to the Pulitzer prize award committee he names the Pulitzer prizes, the American Academy of Arts and Letters and the National Institute of Arts and Letters as agencies cramping unhampered literary style and amateur boards of censorships to be deplored like the "inquisitions of earnest literary ladies."

He finds particularly objectionable the stipulation that the Pulitzer prize shall be given for the "American novel published during the year which shall best present the wholesome atmosphere of American life and the highest standard of American manners and manhood."

This phase, he writes, "would appear to mean that the appraisal of novels shall be made in obedience to whatever code of good form may chance to be popular at the moment."

Mr. Lewis recalled that some years ago he declined membership in the National Institute of Arts and Letters for the same reason he had refused to accept the Pulitzer prize.

Pulitzer Comments.

"I should say that Mr. Lewis has the right to refuse any prize awarded him whether he does so from principle or from self-exploitation," was the comment of Ralph Pulitzer, editor of the World, a member of the award committee's advisory board.

"The whole thing is very amusing and it looks very much like free advertising to me," said Jerome B. Landerfield, secretary of the board.

John L. Heaton of the World, a member of the advisory board, said Mr. Lewis had "a perfect right to refuse the award," but he thought he took an "extreme view of the situation."

"No novelist, in my opinion," he said, "in writing a novel, does it for a prize."

Arthur H. Howe, editor of the Brooklyn Eagle, another board member, concurred in Mr. Heaton's statement and added:

"It is rather an insult to American novelists I think."

Alice Rippler, novelist, said she was thrilled by the gesture. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university and chairman of the board, said he did not want to discuss the letter, which he had not read.

NEW MANAGEMENT

The grocery department in the Boston Market is under new management. Mr. Geore Mumby, who is well known to the buying public, has taken charge. He is re-arranging the market for the convenience of his patrons.

Candidates For Political Office To Be Electors

Candidates for political offices in Nebraska must be legal voters of the state, and county clerks should reject any filing on behalf of a person who does not come within that class, Secretary of State Pool rules in reply to a number of inquiries that have reached him. The state constitution bars anyone from voting who is not a citizen of the United States and for at least six months a resident of Nebraska.

An act by the legislature of 1925 requires every candidate to make oath at the time of filing that he is a qualified elector. This provision would exclude anyone who had not been a resdeut long enough to acquire voting rights, even though he might become qualified before the ensuing primary or general election.

A BRAKE-TESTING ORDINANCE ASKED

Would Provide For Compulsory Inspection By Police Department.

A proposed amendment to the traffic laws, providing for compulsory testing of automobile lights and brakes, was filed with the city clerk Friday by Commissioner Duncan. The amendment will provide that the council set aside a week during which the tests will be made. It also provides that the chief of police may demand tests at any time, and must make tests when they are demanded by automobile owners.

The brake regulations set out in the proposed ordinance are that a car traveling ten miles an hour must be capable of being stopped within ten feet; fifteen miles an hour within twenty feet; and twenty miles an hour, within thirty-seven feet. The chief of police is to have charge of the inspection and the owner shall make such adjustments as are necessary. Certificates will be issued to owners whose cars comply with the requirements. The tests to be made without any cost to the car owners.

Claim Swindler Is Victimizing U. S. Pensioners

A swindler is working in Nebraska, choosing as his victims pensioned war veterans and their widows, a government circular to the police department Thursday afternoon stated.

The government has issued a warning against the person, or persons, who are operating successfully in several states, representing themselves as federal agents and selling spectacles to their victims, in a proposition which the "flim-flam" men say will increase the individual's pension.

Police were informed a federal warrant would be issued for any person caught at the confidence game.

Attempts To Saw Throat Open On a Bar Wire Fence

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., May 7.—(AP)—An extremely sudden and violent case of insanity developed near here early today when Sam Rasmussen, 60, farm laborer, alarmed members of the family when he escaped from the home scantily clad. After a chase he was captured and overpowered, and found to have attempted to cut his throat by pressing and sawing against a barbed wire fence. He was overpowered, manacled and at once taken to the hospital.

Must Not Throw Dandelions Into Street Gutters

Dandelions cut from lawns in the residential district must not be thrown in the gutters, Commissioner Duncan said Friday. Such acts are not only against the city ordinances, he said, but help spread the seed instead of eliminating it. The following statement has been issued by the commissioner after numerous complaints that the weeds were being cast into the street in several parts of the city:

"The citizen who devotes his time and energy to digging dandelions is to be commended but he should not dispose of them by throwing them into the streets and gutters.

"This method does not mean extermination of the pest as the seed continues to thrive even after being removed from the plant, or the plant taken from the ground, and are either washed or blown to other fertile ground. A far better way to dispose of the dandelion, after digging, would be to deposit them in garbage cans and have them carted to the dump.

"All this is beside the fact that I am particularly anxious to keep the streets free from debris."

National Refining Co. Will Operate Stations In City

The National Refining company, which has purchased the property of the Marshall Oil company on North Seventeenth street, has remodeled the plant and will soon establish a number of filling stations in Lincoln and the suburbs. The first station will be established at University Place, according to C. A. Hotchkiss, the local manager.

The company maintains branches and service stations in 120 cities. The division office of the company is at Omaha.

TURNS OUT GRIST OF INDICTMENTS

Grand Jury Investigating Chicago Crime Starts Naming Violators.

Charge Three With Killing, Seven For Consiracy; Hotel Man Named.

CHICAGO, May 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—The special grand jury called to investigate crime conditions in Chicago and Cook county and prevent a "reign of terror" Thursday began turning out its grist of indictments.

The jury, summoned as a result of the murder by machine gun fire of William McSwiggin, "hanging prosecutor," and two companions ten days ago, named the owner of a hotel in Cicero, scene of the slaying, in its first indictments, charging him with keeping a disorderly house.

Shortly afterward three more indictments were returned in connection with a recent gang killing and seven others for conspiracy to violate the state prohibition act.

Meanwhile detectives were scouting the city for witnesses wanted to testify before the special grand jury regarding an alleged "pardon mill," through which, officials charged, scores of Joliet convicts had obtained their freedom on parole.

Would Testify Further.

Coroner Oscar Wolff, in chrage of the inquest into McSwiggin's death which was to be resumed today and who had previously appeared before the grand jury for a short time at the request of Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney and his political opponent, late Thursday again came to the grand jury room and asked that he be permitted to testify further.

This he was allowed to do, but the nature of the testimony was not revealed.

The murder case in which the grand jury returned indictments was that of Martin Gearity, who was "taken for a ride" several weeks ago and thrown from an automobile after being slain. The indictments named Francis "Doc" Whyte, Sam Pullano and August Annerino as Gearity's slayers, while John McMahon and Joseph Salvo were named as accessories.

The indictments for violation of the prohibition law included one against the owners of the Cicero saloon in front of which McSwiggin and his two companions, both engaged in the liquor business, were slain.

The grand jury then adjourned until today.

O'Donnell Indicted.

One of the other prohibition indictments named Myles O'Donnell, reported to have been in McSwiggin's car the night he was killed, and two bartenders in a saloon owned by O'Donnell.

The investigation of the alleged "pardon mill" was started Wednesday night when Attorney General Oscar Carlstrom, in charge of the grand jury investigation, questioned Major Messlein, an officer of the Major Engineering Co., and former official of an organization engaged in welfare work for paroled convicts.

Carlstrom said Messlein admitted he had been instrumental in obtaining the release of several hundred convicts, but denied that there was any financial angle involved. The names of scores of stockholders were taken from the books of the engineering company and the stock owners are to be questioned as how and why they purchased stock.

In going over the records it developed that Will Colvin, head of the state board of pardons and paroles, formerly served as treasurer of the engineering company, but his name no longer appears on the list of officers.

APPROVE DILL BILL

WASHINGTON, May 7.—(AP)—Differences in the senate interstate commerce committee over the Dill radio control bill finally were composed Thursday and the measure was approved unanimously. Under the compromise, radio stations broadcasting for hire would be deemed common carriers, and could not censor matter offered for transmission.

INHERITS MILLION AND HALF.

DOWAGIAC, Mich., May 7.—(AP)—Root Fitch, 65 years old, retired farmer, heir to $1,500,000, began utilizing his inheritance yesterday by having his dining room walls papered. Later he may have a telephone installed and the house painted. He was notified a few days ago that he would receive one-third of the $4,500,000 estate of a cousin he had not seen since 1883, Mrs. May Croxson, Brooklyn recluse, who died recently. "I won't lose my head," he declared.

Briefly Told News From The Wires

LONDON—(AP)—The stock exchange Thursday continued its dull comparatively steady course. The attendance has been depleted through enrollment in the special constabulary, formed to preserve order during the strike. The regular settlement has been satisfactorily completed, but there are very few orders coming to the dealers. At the same time there is a good undertone and not the slighest signs of panic. The exchange market continues lively.

ROCHESTER, Minn.—(AP)—Women have as much right to smoke as men in the opinion of Dr. William J. Mayo, the famous Rochester surgeon. Dr. Mayo epressed this opinion in a brief address before a regional conference of social workers here Wednesday night. Many things have come into life in recent years to add to the happiness of individuals and in doing so have brought longer life, he declared.

NEW YORK—(AP)—A portrait of Andrew Mellon, secretary of the treasury was presented Thursday to the chamber of commerce of the state of New York by its members at the annual meeting. It was given as a "token of appreciation from this generation of New Yorkers and as an inspiration to future generations of business men to render unselfish public service."

TOKYO—(AP)—The Japanese Federation of Labor Thursday pledged its moral and financial support to the British strikers and cabled its resolutions to England. A special committee was appointed to solicit funds.

LONDON—(AP)—Women are taking a most active part in the strike, it was said at the Trade Union congress headquarters Thursday. Several sub-departments are under the complete charge of women executives who have proved their ability on previous occasions. One recruit was Mrs. Philip Snowden, wife of the man who was chancellor of the exchequer in the labor government. She volunteered for any sort of task the officials desired to assign to her. Her sympathies were entirely with the miners, she said.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — House leaders have agreed to pigeonhole for this session the Mills alien property bill and all other measures designed to carry out awards of the German-American mixed claims commission.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church today congratulated President Coldge on the success of his administration and particularly on his "rigid insistence" that the prohibition amendment be enforced. In reply Mr. Coolidge expressed profound appreciation of the "good wishes and support" given the government by "that vast body of communicants and adherents" embraced in Methodism.

LONDON—(AP)—Two noted streets in the southeast of London were in a turmoil of excitement last night, owing to strike clashes. Several persons were injured and taken to the hospital. New Kent Road and Old Kent Road were the centers of the trouble, the origin of which is obscure, but the centerpiece for a time was a blazing motorcar. The two roads run through a poor district and were packed with people during the excitement and when the motorcar went up in flames hundreds of mounted and foot police started to clear the jam. There was a wild rush in which numbers were hurt.

BOSTON — (AP) — Lawrence A. Bearse, a bank manager, who never before had fired a revolver, Thursday shot down and probably fatally wounded a robber who had held up the Upham's Corner branch of the First National bank. George Massitoris of Boston, had obtained $5,400 from a teller at pistol point when the interior of the bank was changed to an inferno of barking pistols and flying lead as employes and police engaged him in battle.

GLASGOW—(AP)—The east side of the city of Glasgow was the scene of prolonged rioting Thursday in connection with the general strike. Many were more or less seriously injured. Sixty-six persons were arrested.

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill.—(AP)—A fire of undetermined origin caused damage estimated at $35,000 to the naptholine plant of the Certainteed products corporation here late Tuesday. A fire at the Marseilles, Ill., plant of the Certainteed company several months ago caused several thousand dollars damage.

CHICAGO—(AP)—President J. E. Gorman of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railway, announced after a meeting of the stockholders Thursday that the entire board of directors of thirteen members had been re-elected without change. Stockholders' proxies representing 933,974 stockholders out of total of 1,095,000 shares outstanding were voted.

Beatrice To Get German Howitzer

(Special to The Star.)

BEATRICE, Neb., May 7. — According to word received from the war department, a mounted German Howitzer gun weighing 22,000 pounds, which was captured in France by the 28th division of which Company C of this city was a part, has been sent to the American Legion post here and will arrive in a few days. It will be placed in Chautauqua park and will be dedicated on Decoration day with appropriate ceremonies and a parade.

TAKE MOTOR HEAD

Entering through a window, prowlers Thursday night carried off a Ford motor head from the Reimers and Kaufman garage, Twelfth and W street, but disturbed nothing else, police who investigated believed.

The head was taken from one of the large trucks in the building.

A Mother's Testimony

"My son gave me the Maytag for a birthday gift. Could a mother receive a more useful and health-saving gift from anyone? I'll say 'NO.'"

MOTHER would not mind washday if it were the easier Maytag washday that hundreds of thousands of women have come to know. No more hand-rubbing. No heavy lifting. No stooping over. Just an hour or so of easy washing instead of the "all-day washday."

Have a Maytag sent to mother's home for a free trial. Let the Maytag do a whole week's washing for her. Let it wash big tubfuls in 3 to 7 minutes. Let it wash collars, cuffs and neckbands spotlessly clean, without hand-rubbing.

Let her see how the famous Maytag wringer instantly adjusts itself to a handkerchief or a blanket, and wrings both dry. How the self-reversing drainboard keeps water away from her and off the floor. How the cast-aluminum tub keeps water hot throughout an entire washing. How the tub cleans itself in 30 seconds after the washing is done.

Phone for a Free Trial—

Let the nearest Maytag dealer deliver a Maytag to mother's home. Let her test it in her own way, make any comparisons she wishes. Remember, there is no obligation nor expense. If the Maytag doesn't sell itself, don't keep it.

Mysterious Sweetheart

CHAPTER XIII.

What Has Gone Before: Carolita Menende, a beautiful young Spanish girl, brought up in a South American convent, is traveling alone to Los Angeles, at the command of her guardian, whom she has never seen. During the last lap of her journey between Chicago and Los Angeles she wakes suddenly in the night and sees clutching the curtains of the berth opposite, a white-hand wearing a gorgeous ruby. In the morning she learns that a man has been found in one of the berths, apparently murdered Paul Reynolds, a young New York lawyer with whom Carolita became acquainted on the train, admits acquaintance with a Mr and Mrs. Brown, who left the train late in the evening after being seen in conversation with the dead man. It is then learned that the so-called Mr Brown is really Walter Reynolds, brother of Paul Reynolds although they have not met in ten years due to a family quarrel. Frank Hyatt, the Los Angeles attorney of the Reynolds' firm, boards the train in answer to a wire and relates that Walter Reynolds' brother, has notified the firm he has an important clue concerning their father's will about which there is some mystery. Hyatt fears that Reynolds may become connected with the murder because he claimed the strange ruby ring, when it was found on the floor, in order to protect Carolita to whom he feared it belonged. However, Carolita explains that this ring is not hers, but a companion ring intended to be worn by her guardian to identify him at their meeting at Los Angeles. The twin ring which she was to wear she has lost although she will not tell how. She fears that the murdered man was her guardian, but at this point he is unexpectedly revived and appears to know nothing of the matter. Reynolds, who is in love with Carolita seeks advice from Gaines, a detective. And then the revived man, Mario Milano, secretly slips Carolita a note.

Into the Thin Air.

Frank Hyatt received the ring from Paul, but he did not immediately return with it to Gaines, for catching sight of the conductor he beckoned him into the empty drawing room.

"Conductor," he said, "my partner and I are in a sense responsible for the affairs of the Reynolds family, and I cannot help feeling some anxiety over the events of today. Several unexplained coincidences have taken place on this train. You are aware that the Reynolds brothers have been estranged. I am wondering if the presence of this girl and the Italian can be laid at the door of the older brother Walter, possibly a plot to discredit the younger brother? May I ask for your frank opinion?"

"I fear that I have nothing to suggest. We were convinced that the Italian was dead, yet he was alive, in some kind of a trance! It is unaccountable. I am certain that he has some connection with the girl, but as neither one will admit it our responsibility in the matter ceases. You are worried because Mr. Reynolds is so evidently interested in the girl?"

"Yes. His wealth and position make him an easy prey. His brother may also wish to injure his good name. He insisst that he is responsible for this girl, going so far as desiring to take her home to his step-mother. I should feel grateful for any additional information you can give me. It will be strictly confidential. What was the gist of the message Walter Reynolds sent to Carr and Reynolds, New York, early this morning?"

The conductor felt in his pocket. "Here it is," he said, holding out a yellow blank, "nothing of any importance, I should say."

"I'm not dead yet by a damned sight.

Signed, Walter Reynolds."

Frank Hyatt's serious look gave way to a broad grin. "Lots of fight left in that old bird!" he remarked

"We'll be glad to do anything we can to help you, at any time, Mr. Hyatt," the conductor arose, "and the young lady will be cared for by the Salvation army. Mr. Reynolds cannot object. It will give you time to divert his mind I will see you later."

Frank Hyatt was left alone and his hand slipped into his pocket, fingering the ring which Paul had given him. Should he or should he not show it to Gaines What was Gaines doing on the train? Who was he trailing? What information was he withholding? Frank's mind went back to the Reynold's will and codicil. Was it possible that Mrs. Reynolds was employing Gaines to follow Paul? What interest could she have in so doing? His thoughts went around and around in a circle, and still he pondered over these questions, the ring held tightly in his hand.

Darkness had fallen, and in the dimly lighted train Paul sat with Carolita in a tension with throbbed painfully penetrating to his innermost being, while from time to time he urged:

"Carolita, I can't believe it of you! I can't! You must tell me what you have done with your ring! If you can't trust me with such a small thing, how are you going to trust me with yourself? How am I to believe in you? What is this mystery that has fallen between us like a heavy pall"

But to each impassioned question she replied with a mournful shake of her head, repeating: "You must not ask me you must not."

Paul was desperate. Los Angeles drew nearer and nearer, the girl he loved slipping further and further away from him, and all for the sake of a ruby heart, cleft in two!

"Carolita," he made one final plea, "let's forget the rings altogether, never speak of them again! Only tell me that you will see me in Los Angeles, give me your address and name an hour when I can come to you! I love you! I want you for my wife! Nothing can change that, dearest! Promise me!"

"Will you allow me then to think quietly for a time?" she replied, unable to withstand his pleading. "Return to me at the depot. I will answer you then." Silently he raised her hand and pressed it, palm upward against his lips. It was as cold as ice!

He arose, every nerve keyed to the breaking point, and in the aisle Gaines passed him, pasing to say:

"Wait for me in the smoker, will you Reynolds? I want to speak a moment with Adjutant Gabrielle. "I'll get her to keep an eye on the girl."

Paul obeyed, after making sure that the Italian had not returned to the car. He was determined that the man should have no opportunity to speak with Carolita. He had reached a point where he distrusted everyone!

It was half an hour before Gaines joined him in the smoking compartment, followed by Frank Hyatt.

"Sorry to have been so long," Gaines said, "but I had several little things to attend to before conferring with you. Sit down Hyatt. What I have to say to Reynolds will interest you as well."

Paul was on the point of questioning him about the ring, but Gaines allowed him no opportunity.

"Frank Hyatt wants to know what I am doing on this train, I evaded his questions for a time, because in our profession we must keep our mouths pretty tightly closed. This is one of the occasions when I feel at liberty to speak, especially as I can set your minds at rest. I am professionally employed to follow Miss Menenden, but she is not aware of the fact. My difficulty is to evade the Italian who is also following her. I may add that I have the situation well in hand, that she will find her friends and be well cared for. At the risk of appearing to intrdude in your affairs I suggest that you allow her to go with the Salvation Army lasses as arranged by the train conductor. Unless something quite unforeseen should now occur, she will complete her journey in safety."

"Then," said Paul, thinking quickly, "you have been chiefly concerned with the supposed death of this man and the position of suspicion in which she was placed?"

"Exactly. I foresaw an inquest, embarrassment for her to say the least. She is above reproach, Mr. Reynolds, but placed in an ambiguous position. I can assure you that she will be able to explain everything to your complete satisfaction at a later time. For the present it will be best not to worry her further."

"Gaines," Paul protested, "we all know that the Reynolds family can't keep out of this mixup, for in spite of everything, you can do Walter is definitely involved with this man, if not with the girl herself!"

"Yes, but that hardly affects you. The world knows that Walter was disinherited by your father, which will, as far as your family is concerned, mitigate any disagreeable publicity he may incur. You are in a different position. Caution must be your watchword!"

Paul's mouth was tightly closed, his jaws set.

"Gaines" he said after a pause, "are you tactfully breaking the news that we have run into something connected with my family affairs? What's the meaning of all this side stepping? What do you think I am, a babe in arms?" He

BATTLE BEGINS OVER FARM AID

Aswell Attacks Haugen Bill As "Big Union Idea" Backed by Radicals.

Corn Belt Measure Vigorously Defended Against Charges Of Subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—By the Associated Press.—Resumption of debate in the house on farm relief legislation Thursday brought a clash of opinions as advocates of the different plans discussed the problem.

Operating under a rule which brings general debate to a close Saturday, the house held a session last night to accommodate the many desiring to speak on the three pending bills: the Haugen price stabilization measure, the Tincher credit proposal and the Curtis-Aswell national commodity marketing plan.

The Curtis-Aswell bill was urged by Representative Aswell of Louisiana, ranking democrat on the agriculture committee and co-author of the measure. He said his plan of handling each product separately could be compared to the way crafts were organized in the American Federation of Labor, while the scheme of the Haugen bill was the "one big union idea" backed by the I. W. W. and the communists."

Mr. Aswell declared that Chairman Haugen of the agriculture committee had been "put in the hands of the corn belt lobbyists," whom he charged with turning out an "unsound and unworthy" measure that would "leave the treasury holding the bag."

The Haugen bill in the early uphold by Representative Adkins, republican, Illinois, and Ruby, democrat, Missouri, both members of the agriculture committee. They contended it was the only plan that would relieve the distress of agriculture.

Calls Haugen Bill "Ideal."

Rubey called the Haugen bill an "ideal plan," adding that the democratic platform endorsed its principles.

Tincher asked whether he contended that the platform of either party "endorsed a subsidy."

"If the Haugen bill is a subsidy so is yours," Rubey retorted.

At the night session, Representative Tincher, republican, Kansas, defended his bill and assailed the Haugen measure as a direct subsidy. He declared the subsidy had been unsuccessfully tried in England on agriculture and later on labor "resulting in general strike not against the employers, but against the government itself."

Mr. Tincher termed the corn belt delegation supporting the Haugen bill "lobbyists, who have no principle," adding that they had changed their position so often that the bill had become a monstrosity."

The provision of the bill withholding the equalization fee on basic crops for two years, he described as a "postponement until after elections."

The Haugen bill was advocated by Representative Wheeler, republican, Illinois, who said it would provide a means of disposing of surplus crops at fair prices and would enable co-operative associations to develop above present ability.

Representative Williamson, republican, South Dakota, also favored the Haugen bill.

Gloria Swanson Becomes Member United Artists

LOS ANGELES, May 7.—(AP)—Gloria Swanson, motion picture actress has become a member of United Artists, holding equal ownership of the corporation with Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks, Charles Chaplin and Joseph M. Schenck, officers of the organization announced here Thursday.

Maurice [illegible] has been named executive head for the Swanson unit which has contracted for two pictures a year.

caught a warning look from Hyatt and knew instinctively that his friend had not yet revealed the discovery of the ruby, and suddenly with all his soul he distrusted this detective who knew so much that he did not tell.

"Certainly I don't take you for a babe in arms," Gaines appeared undisturbed, "but, as this is my line of business and not yours, I suggest that you allow me to finish my journey with its errand, and postpone your interest in it until I can assist you personally. I am sure that Hyatt will agree that this is the best plan. Blackmail is an easy game and a mighty tough one to beat, and until we know what Walter and this foreigner are pulling off, it's well for us all to go slowly."

"So, it's blackmail you fear," Paul replied more calmly, "in that case why have you allowed Walter to make a get away."

"I'm not sure it's blackmail, but it's the natural inference following such unusual occurrences. Walter hasn't gone far," Gaines replied easily. "He'll be in Los Angeles within a week or I miss my guess. The thing for you to do is to go to a hotel and forget this miserable business. Tomorrow you can continue to Santa Barbara as planned. I will keep in touch with Hyatt and through him you can be assured of the girl's safety. When I think it is wise for you to see her again I will let you know."

"Aren't you taking a good deal of responsibility upon yourself?" Paul asked grimly. "Why this sudden interest in my personal affairs? I must confess that I don't enjoy it. Upon whose authority are you acting?" May I ask if you knew that I would be on this train? Is it possible that you are on my trail as well as the girl's?"

"I am advising you in the capacity of a family friend and former employe of your father. Quite frankly and upon my honor I had not an idea that you were on this train. I had never seen you before. I did not know your name until this morning. I most certainly am not following you. Are you satisfied?"

"Then," said Paul "I cannot imagine what this Pullman car tempest is all about. Talk about the movies I feel as if I were the latest edition of Hamlet. However since you and Frank are both so determined to wrap me in cotton wool, all air excluded, I suppose I must submit." He might have added: "And since Carolita is equally determined to put me out of her life—there is not much use of going on with the thing, anyway." His thoughts were bitter enough, just then. It was nearing midnight and he had put in a long, hard day, crammed to overflowing with emotion, anxiety, and a premonition of disaster that would not be silenced in spite of all the arguments his well trained mind could summon.

Ridiculous for a man of twenty-five to have to admit that he had fallen in love with a girl he had known but a few hours, a maiden wrapped in mystery, one who was followed by a most undesirable Italian and shadowed by a detective! Yet he could not deny the intense feeling which swept him at the mere thought of Carolita, the emotion produced by the sight of her exquisite dark beauty, the appeal of her helplessness, the chivalry awakened in him by her urgent need of protection! She was not the first girl who had entered his life, but he had never before proposed marriage or wanted to! It was a crushing blow to have his first real love come in such a guise, and for a while he allowed Gaines and Frank to chat along upon other matters, his own thoughts absorbed in self pity and regret.

"My goodness, we're almost in!" Frank's exclamation roused him.

Paul sprang to his feet.

"I thought Gaines was here with you!"

"You've been asleep! Better get our stuff together," but Paul had already run back to the Pullman, and returning met him in the small aisle, his eyes stern and angry.

"Where's Carolita?" he cried, while at the same time the Salvationists were heard, calling the girl's name.

"Carolita, Carolita! Where are you?"

The train had come to a stop, and shouting to the Salvationists to search the dressing room, the young men dashed forward, only to find themselves intercepted by a pile of baggage, and the porter engaged in opening the Pullman door.

"Where's the young lady? Porter!" they both cried.

"De little lady from lower two? She done gone fo'wad boss a while back!"

for the Quaker's picture when buying oats.

That means richer flavor

WHEN children say they don't like oats, it's usually because rich Quaker flavor is missing.

Children who ordinarily don't take to oats are often quickly won to this important food, simply by giving them "Quaker."

The flavor is uniquely different; toasty, rich and creamy. Quaker Oats alone has it. Some 50 years were spent in perfecting it.

Quaker milling, too, retains much of the "bulk" of oats. And that makes laxatives less often needed. This protein, carbohydrates and vitamines and "bulk" combine in making Quaker Oats an excellently balanced ration.

Imitation is the best testimonial of the real thing. Notice the many self-serve stores that are springing up in Lincoln hoping to ride on the wave of Piggly Wiggly popularity—But there are many things behind Piggly Wiggly besides Self Service that cannot be imitated.

Just notice the tremendous assortments of nationally famous labels on the Piggly Wiggly shelves. Where else are you certain to buy the consistent quality behind Libbys, Beechnut, Snyder, Lady Alice, Underwood, Van Camp's, Kraft's Full lines? Do you believe private label foods that are controlled by the label owner will ever give you the same value at the same prices?

Minerva's Mail

Take Your Troubles To Minerva

"Sneaking Out" For Dates.

Dear Minerva: I've kept my troubles away from you as long as possible, and after reading your wonderful advice to others, thought perhaps you could help me.

I am a girl in high school, plenty young to go with boys. I know, but perhaps when you get through reading my letter you'll understand. I have many wonderful girl friends and could and would have many boy friends if it were not for my parents.

My sister went with a very nice and respected young man whom the folks were very fond and proud of. My sister and he had been going together quite steady for several years, when she got into trouble and tried to keep my parents from knowing about it by getting married very quietly and as soon as possible. But my parents found it out and since then they have not spoken a good word of any boy and feel that they are not safe in trusting any. They will not let me ask any boy to our home nor allow me to go with any boy since this has happened. Do you think this is right?

I read a letter in your Mail some time ago that made the statement "If the front door is not opened for a girl she will sneak out the back door," which I think is true and that's just what I did. I went with a boy quite steady and when my parents forbad me to go with him, after I had gone two or three times, I began to sneak out, telling them I was going with a bunch of friends or some other excuse.

I knew all the time I wasn't doing right, but Oh, Minerva, I just couldn't help it for all my other girl friends went with boys and talked about what wonderful times they had, and I began to notice they were talking about me, and saying that I was not a good sport, never in for a good time, etc. I couldn't bear this, so I began sneaking out.

My boy friend thought a lot of me and I thought a lot of him, and we had wonderful times together. I might tell you that he drank before I went with him, but I told him he had to stop drinking or stop going with me, so he stopped drinking. This also set my parents against him for they had heard of him being drunk at times, and they always noticed his bad habits, and never any good ones, and seemed to think he could never change for the better. They have never listened to reason, but when I take his part they tell me to shut up.

My parents had heard then that I had gone with him again, and threatened to send me to a reform school if they ever heard of it again. I lost all my nerve and was afraid to go with him any longer, so I told him I could not continue going with him for my parents would not permit it. He left town a short time after this to work, telling me before he left that any time I wanted to come back to him to let him know. God only knows how I want to but I don't dare. He has always felt bad about my parents' dislike of him.

He has not gone with any other girl since he went with me and I have gone with one boy since, without the knowledge of my parents, although I don't believe they would have cared very much. I didn't have a good time, but was in misery all evening. I tried to be interesting and act as though I was having a good time, but I don't believe, I succeeded very well.

Many other boys have asked for dates since but I have turned them all down because of my parents and also knowing that I would not enjoy myself.

I can't go on any longer this way for my friends are beginning to talk again, and I'm so blue. I have cried myself to sleep many nights thinking about it, but nothing I can do seems to help any.

Can you tell me what to do? Am I foolish or do I really care for this boy?

Please be frank in your answer. Is there anything I can do to win my parents' consent to go with any other boy? They seem to dislike them all. What'll I Do.

A. My dear, can't you see that your parents were hurt and disappointed by your sister, and that it is your privilege to mean so much to them, to help heal the hurt she inflicted. Can't you see that your parents are trying to guard you so carefully, so that your life will be happier and freer and without regret, as is your sister's? I know they seem stern and unyielding to you who are just beginning to enjoy social life, but I know they are trying as best they can to be kind, to help you help yourself.

Please don't sneak out the back door any more. No matter what happiness or fame or wealth comes to you in later life, the fact that you deceived your parents will dull all happiness, will tarnish all fame. Their one thought in life is your happiness and welfare, and do play square with them, do do your part by heeding their admonitions, by following their advice.

I know you want to go out with the other boys and girls, but a year or two of sacrifice is a small price to pay to give them comfort and ease of mind and contentment. You have so many years in which to "date," and not so many in which to ease the heartaches and distress of mind of your parents. Please be patient and loving and obedient.

The other boys and girls may talk, but it is but the thought of a day. Those who really count will think a lot more of you and will have more respect for you if you follow your parents' wishes than if you go out the kitchen window. And, after all, does their gossip of the minute mean more than the care your father and mother have given you for fifteen or sixteen years."

It is silly for a child your age to cry herself to sleep. Don't indulge in self pity. It only makes the corners of your mouth turn down, reddens your eyes, and alienates your friends. Be bright and gay and show the world that a boy more or less is nothing in your life. You may think it is easy to advise, less easy the advice to follow, but a little self-discipline is good even for the 'teens—a good time to learn of something you'll need later in life.

I really believe you merely like this boy, and mainly because you were not allowed to go with him. Stolen fruit is sweet.. No high school girl should have a friend who drinks nor who need to give it up. What kind of a man do you think he will be if he deliberately breaks the law as a boy? What kind of a husband and father will he make, what kind of example to others. I'd forget him if I were young and look about for a higher type of boy friend.

The only thing I can suggest about winning your parents' consent is to ask them to let you have friends at your home. Tell them you have gone without their knowledge, but that you don't want to do that, and, won't any more, but that you would like some pleasure, and in your own home. You might say you are losing your friends because you can't belong to the crowd, and that school books and home work don't satisfy all your longings.

Defense of Modern Schools.

Dear Minerva: I wish to contribute my bit in defending our modern schools. It may be well to say that I am a pupil in one of Lincoln's wonderful schools, and proud of the fact.

Now I fear "Lorene" has a very bad impression of the schools. She has probably been informed by a mischievous culprit.

Our teachers are wonderful people and I respect every one of them. It is not the teacher's fault if a scholar fails. It is his own individual fault. We are given every possible opportunity to succeed in our school work, and if we pass up our chances we are to blame.

I will admit that some children grasp things quicker than others, are more intelligent, but by doing as we are told and doing it the best we can, there is no possible reason why any child should fail.

I have heard my teachers ask children to stay a few minutes after school, so they may find out why they made a certain mistake, "Oh, I can't stay tonight. I'm going to a party."

So I say it is not the teacher's fault if a child is at the bottom of the class, because they have the chance to succeed if they want. Fourteen-Year-Old Pupil.

A. There's a fine, loyal letter from one who is on the inside looking out! And perhaps she has found one very real evil of the present day child life, which demands that he live quite as broad and strenuous a life as his parents.

Conduct at a Party.

Dear Minerva: I have been a silent reader of your Mail for many months, and can truthfully say that I enjoy it. I am also coming to you with some questions as so many others do.

Not so very long ago I had attended a party, and Minerva you should have seen how some of the boys and girls acted. They would just simply kiss right on the floor while dancing. Now I and several others thought this was just simply awful. Now what do you think about such boys and girls? I think if they want to kiss and hug they should go some place where everybody won't see them, don't you?

Do you think it is all right for a girl to go with a boy who is engaged to another girl for sev-

WHAT TO EAT — WHERE TO GET IT — HOW TO COOK IT

AGRICULTURAL NEWS from NEBRASKA COUNTIES

Associated Press.

The new Nebraska state home for dependent children, formerly a private residence and now under the control of the state board, will be turned over to students in the horticultural department of the University of Nebraska college of agriculture to replace and make changes in the plantings and grounds, Prof. C. C. Wiggans, head of the department announced.

The designing of the grounds and changes in the planting will be supervised by Wilber M. Shrader, a student majoring in horticulture. The home is located near University Place.

BROKEN BOW—Farmers are advised to vaccinate against hog cholera early by County Extension Agent M. L. Gould of Custer county.

"Cholera always takes a large toll of the spring pig crop," he said, "because with the warm weather the pigs naturally root up the ground and are exposed to the germs that are uncovered. Many farmers make the mistake of waiting until their pigs show symptoms before vaccinating. Nine times out of ten it is then too late and a heavy loss occurs in spite of vaccination. The proper time to vaccinate for cholera is just ten days or two weeks before weaning or ten days or two weeks after."

Plow Under Clover.

WAHOO—Experiments show that if second year sweet clover is plowed under in May or June as much nitrogen is added to the soil as would be the case were the crop allowed to grow two full seasons, County Extension Agent P. N. Houser points out. Second year sweet clover may be plowe dunder in May and the ground planted in corn. This shortens the rotation period without losing the benefit which the clover adds to the soil. In the eastern section of the state and in other sections where moisture conditions are favorable, a good short rotation is to seed alsike clover with the small grains. This clover does not grow so that the following year and would not use moistures early in the spring which would be needed by the corn. Less fertility would be added, now, than if the biennial type were used.

Plan Club Week.

SYRACUSE—Otoe county will be well represented at the Agricultural college in Lincoln, May 31 to June 5 at the annual Boys and Girls Club week. Two or more representatives from each of the five boys and girls clubs will attend the meetings.

There are now nine entries in the 1926 ten acre corn field contest from Otoe county. The goal for this section is 90 bushels per acre. A club boy last year turned in a record of 96 bushels. Farmers making the project will keep a labor record on ten acres and will compute cost of producing each bushel raised.

WALTHILL—Charles E. Steward, secretary of the Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation, was the principal speaker at a series of four community club meetings in Thurston county. Mr. Steward declared that he favored the Haugen Farm relief bill in congress as the best measure presented. He believed that never before were farm leaders more united than today on questions concerning needed legislation and other matters concerning agriculture.

He turned also to a discussion of co-operative marketing and declared that it is proving and has already proved successful, but that where control is not in the hands of members there is great danger of failure.

Lawrence Gustafson, cow tester for the Tri County Cow Testing association, has revealed some interesting figures in his report to the farm bureau. He declared that in the 25 herds enrolled in the association over 300 cows have been tested and that approximately 30 of these have been disposed of as unprofitable.

Due to the sale of these cows as unprofitable and to better methods of feeding employed, it has been possible to reduce the feed cost of producing milk by members of the association from $1.35 per hundred to $1.08 per hundred during the past three months.

Tests "Animal Ash."

LINCOLN—Chemist Patty of the state food, drug and oil bureau has completed tests of samples of so-called "animal ash" used in livestock feeds. The state chemist declared that samples submitted to him from Omaha contained only residue from stockyards manure after it had been burned. He declared that the samples were chiefly composed of vegetable matter and were of little value as ingredients for balanced rations for livestock. Manufacturers and dealers engaged in selling such preparations will be notified by the chemist that the term "animal ash" constitutes misbranding when applied to products similar to samples received at his office.

Health Project.

LEXINGTON—Women who have been taking the home health project in Thurston county under the direction of the agricultural extension services plan to hold a county achievement day at Cozad, May 11. A similar meeting will also be held at Lexington May 12.

Briefly Told News From The Wires

CHICAGO — (AP)—Arguments of railroads north and south of Kansas City and St. Louis on a raise in freight rates on through shipments over their lines were heard Thursday by Interstate Commerce Commission Examiner William A. Disque. Among the roads represented were the Southern Pacific, the Santa Fe, Rock Island, and the Chicago Burlington & Quincy.

MIDDLESBOROUGH, Eng.— (AP)—The police last night had to use their clubs against a mob which stoned and tried to hold up a passenger train and refused to disperse. The station master and a police sergeant were badly injured.

LONDON—(AP)—The fire brigade made an official report on the fire which occurred Wednesday night in the plant of the London Times in Printing House square. The supposed cause of the fire was incendiarism. A roll of print paper in the machine room on the ground floor of the building was damaged before the firemen flooded the room.

COMMONS PASSES EMERGENCY ACT

Measure Confirmed Without Opposition After Laborites Leave Hall.

LONDON, May 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—The regulations of the emergency act were confirmed without division in the house of commons last night. All the labor members previously had left the house.

The labor opposition made strong efforts to have various clauses withdrawn from the act, but their amendments were overwhelmingly rejected.

Strong language was used by some of the laborites. For instance, David Kirkwood objected to these immense powers being given to "this disgraceful, rotten government."

David Grenfell accused the government of feebly imitating Italian methods. George Barker complained that giving magistrates the right to prohibit meetings might prevent members of the house from addressing their constituents.

A warm debate occurred over the clause dealing with the power to arrest without warrant and granting the police the right to enter premises in the mere authority of the home secretary if there was reason to suspect that the premises were being used for the production of publications likely to cause sedition and mutiny among the police.

FIX LEAGUE MEETING DATE.

GENEVA, May 7.—(AP)—The seventh assembly of the League of Nations, was instructed to meet here on September 6, by an order from Viscount Ishii, president of the league council, made public Thursday. The provisional agenda, which was also issued, includes action on Germany's application for league membership, which was postponed at the special March session. Action will also be taken on the disarmament question and the problem of reconstruction of the league council, both of which questions are being considered meanwhile by special commissions.

JOE JACK, JR., GUILTY

PIKEVILLE, Ky., May 7.—(AP)—Joe Jack, Jr., was found guilty of manslaughter and given a sentence of two years in the penitentiary by a jury in the Pike County Circuit court here Thursday. He was charged with conspiracy in the mine explosion murder and insurance plot at McKarr, Ky., last year.

Dear Madam, here is your freedom

A LITTLE OVER THREE YEARS AGO, a group of men decided to try and free all women from worry about moth-damage.

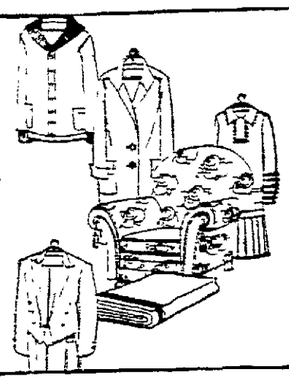

They wanted to produce something that would give unfailing protection against moth-attack. And after eighteen months of experiments they delivered the goods. They produced Larvex.

They also proved its protective qualities beyond the shadow of a doubt—before a single bottle was offered for sale. They moth-proofed hundreds of woolen samples with Larvex. They covered those samples with moth-worms. They made the tests last for months. Thousands of moth-worms were used. They all died—without eating a single hole in any of the samples mothproofed with Larvex. That's protection. Remember—only moth-worms eat. They hatch from eggs laid by moths who are themselves harmless.

Moth-damage is now banished for all time

$1. protects $200.

Overcoats, suits, woolen dresses—all woolen things in your home—make them mothproof with Larvex. Use Larvex to mothproof—

Follow the lead of 1,000,000 women who now mothproof all their woolen things with Larvex. Spray Larvex thoroughly on your woolen articles. It penetrates the fibres and makes the cloth itself mothproof. No moth-worm or carpet beetle will eat any woolen fabric protected with Larvex. One thorough spraying lasts an entire season.

Leave your clothes hanging right in the closets—always available. They need no further protection than Larvex. They are safe anywhere. They are not wrinkled when you want them. They have no odor. Larvex is odorless. Non-inflammable, too!

HOW TO BUY LARVEX

If you have never used Larvex, first buy the combination package containing the improved Larvex Atomizer, $1.50. Then buy the refill sizes of Larvex only: the pint at $1, or if you have many things to mothproof, buy the ½ gallon at $3 or the gallon at $5. At drug, department, and furniture stores. Buy Larvex today. The Larvex Corporation, 55 Rodney Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Macon Fisherman Relieved of Fine

After being arrested and fined $15 and costs at Oxford for fishing without a license, Lester Reynolds of Macon, escaped the penalty by stating that he had no money and was fishing to get something to eat. On that plea Justice Charles Breithauft remitted the fine and let him go. Deputy Game Wardens Bunmey and Coon made the arrest.

At several places, $15 fines for the same offense were assessed and collected, with costs, from the following persons:

Oxford—Percy Clarine, arrested by Deputy Warden Bunmey.

Shambling—Fred Ecttumacht, arrested by Deputy Warden Lashmutt.

Blair—Henry, Maggie, Everett and Grace Nelson, all of Omaha arrested by Deputy Hopewell; pleaded guilty before County Judge Eller.

A fine of $5 and costs was levied on William Trebal at McCook for spearing catfish. Deputy Warden Sinner arrested him.

Council Rushing Paving For Loop To Fair Grounds

Ordinances creating paving districts on Y street from Sixteenth to Seventeenth; Sixteenth from Vine to the right of way of the Northwestern railroad and thence in a northeastern direction to Seventeenth street; and Seventeenth street 516 feet south from the north line of the right of way of the Burlington tracks, were read a second time at a special meeting of the council Friday morning.

Protest against the paving of Y street from Sixteenth to Seventeenth was made by J. A. Lentz, Lincoln manager for the Continental Oil company. He contended that the street has never been legally opened and that the city has no right of way. This was disputed by Commissioner Duncan, head of the street department and Engineer Erickson, who stated that the right of way was acquired many years ago.

The ordinance will be read a third time and passed by the council Monday afternoon. About $65,000 is involved in the construction of the three districts and, when the work is completed, which will be prior to the opening of the state fair in September, the engineer says, two-way traffic for state fair visitors will be provided.

Becker Winner of Harmonica Contest

George Becker was awarded first place in the junior division and Stanley Muggy first place in the senior division in the finals of the harmonica contest conducted by the city recreation board Thursday evening at the McKinley auditorium. The judges were E. J. Walt, Les Ager, and Mrs. Fred Easterday. One hundred eight contestants were entered.

The other prizes were won by Edmund Carlson, second, and Delbert Carter, third, in the junior division, for boys twelve years of age and younger, and Stanley Shaner, second, and Peter Filbert, third, in the senior division.

Those who placed were given harmonicas and a certificate of proficiency signed by Mayor Zehrung and the members of the recreation board. Mr. Walt presented the others with harmonicas.

eral months? Do you think this boy can care for the girl he is engaged to so very much, when he asks another girl if she would let him take her home?

And one more question. Does a girl have to have a high school education if she wants to take a nurse's training course. I would very much like to be a nurse but I do not have a high school education.—NORMANDY.

A. I think the boys and girls were very silly and cheap and common. However, probably such actions were a bid for attention more than anything else, and the best thing is to ignore those who indulge in such inane conduct. Public display of affection should not be tolerated, because it cheapens the affection and makes those who indulge a topic for gossip, but I would not advise you or the others your age to go where others won't see you for that purpose.

In other days it was considered the height of discourtesy and ill breeding for an engaged couple to appear in public with other than the fiancee or fiance. With less rigid adherence to convention that this day has brought, I wouldn't get very wrought up over an engaged man taking another girl home. I don't think, man would care a great deal for his fiancee if he made a practice of going with another girl, provided the former lived in the same town with him. However, some girls believe it a wise policy to allow their fiance much freedom, knowing they are the preferred ones, and perhaps they are very wise. No girl need accept attention from a man she knows to be engaged, if she does not care to.

The Lincoln hospitals, and I believe all standardized hospitals in all cities, require at least two years of high school training, or its equivalent.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY.

(Special to The Star.)

HEBRON, Neb., May 7—The senior class of the high school will give its annual class play at the Majestic Monday and Tuesday evenings, May 10 and 11. Twenty-seven will graduate this spring, eleven boys and sixteen girls.

HEED CONSTIPATION'S WARNING

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN brings sure relief because it is 100% bran

Even before constipation wrecks the health—it lines the face with wrinkles, spots the skin, hollows the cheeks. Unpleasant breath and headaches are merely outward signs of the inward havoc this dire disease promotes.

Rid yourself forever of constipation. Stop it before too late! Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has brought relief to thousands where all else has failed. Doctors recommend it. They know ALL-BRAN brings results. It is not an uncertain part-bran product.

Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—with every meal, in chronic cases. Your grocer will refund the money if it fails.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is made in Battle Creek, Michigan. Ready to eat with milk or fruit. Cooking too. Delicious recipes on the package. Sold by all grocers. Served at hotels and restaurants.

Frost Announces Appointments On Examining Boards

Dr. Sylvia L. Ashworth of Lincoln has been reappointed for three years on the state chiropractic examination board, of which she is chairman. The appointment was announced by State Welfare Secretary Frost, with the approval of Governor McMullen.

Other appointments made on professional examining boards under the welfare department are:

Nurse board—Miss Edith Salin, superintendent of Methodist hospital, Omaha, to succeed Bertha A. Bryant, Grand Island, who was not a candidate.

Veterinary board—F. L. Cady Arlington, to succeed Floyd Perrin, Lincoln, who was not a candidate.

Man Wanted On Nebraska Charge Makes An Escape

Oscar Ashwoorth, who is wanted at Nebraska City and in Kansas City for alleged attacks upon two school girls, escaped from custody Saturday when he broke jail at Tucumcari, N. M., according to word received this morning at the state sheriff's office from the department of justice.

Ashworth was being held at Tucumcari as a government prisoner on a charge of auto stealing. No details of the escape were given in the message from the department of justice. Deputy Sheriff Hasson said.

400 WORKERS STRIKE.

GRANITE CITY, Ill., May 7.—(AP)—The strike of 400 sheet metal and enamel workers here settled down today as a peaceful test of strength between the unions and the National Enameling Stamping Co. The unions involved—Local 10943 of the Tin, Steel and Graniteware Workers and Local 1004 of the Sheet Metal Workers—held joint meeting yesterday afternoon and agreed to conduct the strike quietly and peacefully. They also voted to maintain vigilant picket lines around the company's plant.

Village Of Dunbar Seventy Years Old Holds Celebration

DUNBAR, Neb., May 7.—(AP)—This village which sprung up on the farm homesteaded by Thomas Dunbar in 1856, is observing its 70th anniversary this week.

A granite boulder was unveiled Wednesday with a celebration attended by old timers of the neighborhood. The Nebraska City band played. A bronze plate will be set in the boulder.

Truck Driver Is Fined For Speeding

Passing all traffic on the street, and testimony of officers, is enough to convict a person of speeding, Judge Chappell informed Grant Martin, truck driver, Friday morning as he found him guilty of speeding on South Ninth street.

Although Martin declared repeatedly that he did not exceed the speed limit, Officers Gross and Schappaugh testified against him and Judge Chappel fined Martin $10 and costs. The officers did not obtain his exact mileage, but estimated his speed at 35 miles an hour.

Mary Roelfs and Frank Vorhees were fined $10 each for violating school stop signs.

HOLD SIX SUSPECTS.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 7.—(AP)—A broker and two negroes were arrested last night bringing the total number in custody to six in connection with the disappearance from the federal building of 350 cases of liquor confiscated from W. B. Squibb & Co., in 1925.

Briefly Told News From The Wires

CHICAGO—(AP)—Today's generation of boys and girls is the best the world has ever seen and the next will be even better, Col. C. S. Bullock declared in an address radiocast last night from station WLS in connection with Boys week of which he is chairman. There are no inherently bad boys and if a boy is "bad," it is because he is the artificial product of society's maladjustments, he said.

NEW YORK—(AP)—Albert Ransdell Fish, a member of the stock exchange firm of Reynolds, Fish & Co., committed suicide Thursday in his apartment in the Hotel Clarendon by opening the arteries of his wrists and bleeding to death.

MOSCOW—(AP)—The executive committee of the Soviet Labor confederation passed a resolution Thursday to appeal to all union members and workers in soviet institutions to contribute one quarter of one day's wages to the striking British workers. In this manner 5,500,000 rubles ($175,000,000) will be raised. There already has been sent to the general English trade council 250,000 rubles.

KRAZY KAT The Prisoner's Song

"KARNAK PUT ME RIGHT AND I'VE STAYED RIGHT"

"And Other People I've Talked To, Who Took The Medicine More Than A Year Ago When I Did, Tell Me The Same Thing," Says Lincoln Man.

Edward J. Offer

"More than a year ago this Karnak put me right and I've been right even since," declares Edward J. Offer, of 1305 N. 21st St., Lincoln, Neb.

"Many people have asked me about the medicine, and I always tell them that when Karnak fixes you up you sure stay fixed—that's been my experience with it," continues Mr. Offer. "For five years I suffered with a chronic case of indigestion, stomach trouble and constipation.

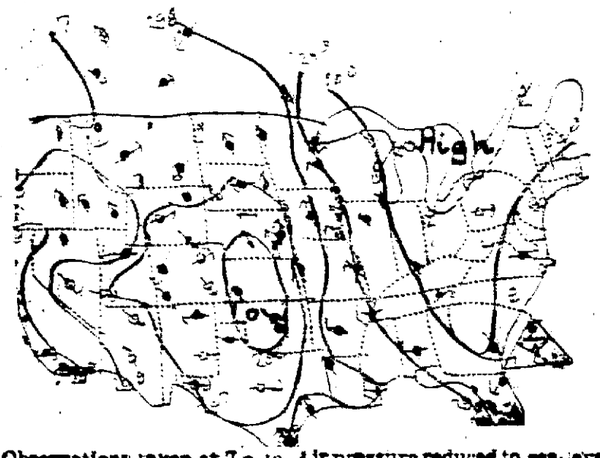

"After every meal I suffered with bloating, biliousness and shortness of breath. I tell you, my stomach simply felt sore as a boil, and I just felt weak and wornout all the time. I paid out all kinds of money but could find nothing that reached my case.

"Then a friend put me on to Karnak—told me how it had fixed him up, and just 'raved' about the medicine. And I want to tell you it just made a new man of me, too. It did away with that indigestion, constipation and stomach trouble altogether, built me up in weight and put me to feeling like my old-time self in every way. And I haven't spent a red cent for medicine since. I've talked with other people who took Karnak back when I did, and they all say the same thing for the medicine. Yes, sir, just send 'em to me if they want to know about Karnak."

Karnak is sold in Lincoln exclusively by the Harley Drug Co., in Havelock by the Baker Drug Store, and by the leading druggist in every town.—Advertisement.

Wrath of A. A. U. Aimed at Norwegian Vaulter

Hoff's Prank Sours Uncle Sam on Foreign Athletes

Heads of Amateur Athletic Union Take Steps To Prevent Repetition of the Incident at San Francisco; Norwegian Must Vault or Have His American Tour Declared Cancelled.

BY DAVIS J. WALSH.

NEW YORK, May 7.—(I. N. S.)—There will be no more of this business of seeing-American-on-a-cinder-path by foreign athletes who happen to be able to jump higher, run faster or explain quicker than the next.

This, the writer has been given to understand, was to be the amateur athletic union's decision today, regardless of whether Charley Hoff of Norway obeys or ignores its mandate to compete at San Francisco tomorrow under pain of having the remainder of his exhibition tour cancelled.

The A. A. U. almost learned its lesson from Paavo Nurmi's series of controversies here last year—almost but not quite. It required Hoff's difficulties, past and present, to convince the boys that a rolling athlete gathers no moss and even less prestige for the official body that sponsors him.

Rain Calls Halt On Friday Game

Opening game of the Lincoln-Wichita series, scheduled for Friday afternoon at Landis Field, was called off at 1 p. m. when rain made it apparent that the park was too soggy for the purposes of baseballing.

Announcement was made at that hour that a Sunday double-header would be staged, contingent on the Wichita manager, Howard Gregory, agreeing to play two games that day.

Clouds Drip as High Speedsters About to Toe Mark

Rain Pours Down on High Youngsters Here in Meet

Clouds Leaked Copiously During Friday Noon Hour, But Management Proceeded With Plans To Stage Elimination Competition: Meet Pulls Record-Breaking List of Entries.

BY GREGG McBRIDE.

A downpour which broke during the noon hour practically washed away all chance that any Nebraska interscholastic records would be broken during the Friday preliminaries of the twenty-fourth annual state high school track and field championships scheduled to start during the afternoon.

The stadium cinder oval, however, is an excellent "wet weather" track and the management of the meet was prepared to go on with the events as soon as the rain let up. In the event that the Friday program is called off, the preliminaries will be staged Saturday morning, probably starting at 10 a. m.

Several of the field events, including the shot put, high jump, pole vault and broad jump, can be staged beneath the east stadium stand in event the weather outside is unfavorable.

"The Friday rain will not slow up the Saturday finals in the least," said Acting Athletic Director H. D. Gish Friday morning. "If the rain does not continue tomorrow, the track will be in ideal condition, ready for the high school athletes."

Athletes Flock to City.

A majority of the high school teams had registered at headquarters by Friday noon. Coaches expressed themselves strongly in favor of the two-day meet declaring it would mean less strain on their high school athletes and believe that with a fair break in the weather the new program would furnish better competition.

It was gossip around the stadium Friday that a meeting of high school coaches might be called for Friday night or Saturday morning, the formation of a Nebraska High School Coaches' association being the object of the meeting.

All Sections Represented.

All sections of the state are represented in the early arrivals at the state meet. Coach Irving Moore of Wauneta in the southwestern part of the state, arrived Thursday with four athletes. Big Springs and Scottsbluff are included among the entries from the west, while Alliance is sending Gibson, its crack miler, from the northwest.

Allen, Tilden and Pender are included in the northeast representation, while DuBois, Stella and Auburn will be here from the southeast.

The entry roster listed 82 high school teams, a record total for the annual interscholastic track and field classic.

Tennis Over to Saturday.

The Friday morning rain washed away any chance of starting the Nebraska interscholastic tennis tournament scheduled for the afternoon. Fourteen high schools are entered in the racquet tournament. Those in charge plan to start the matches as early as possible Saturday morning and play throughout the day. Pairings for the first round.

Industrial League Plays Four Games

Thursday twilight games in the Y. M. C. A. Industrial baseball league were featured by two shutouts, the Evans Laundry team blanking the Franklin Ice Creams, 5 to 0, and the City of Lincoln's calcimining the Woods Bros. team, 2 to 0.

Gooch's Best smothered the Lincoln Telephones, 14 to 2, and the Post Office Clerks walked away from the American Express aggregation, 11 to 5.

The Public Service-Board of Education game was not completed and will be played over. Scores of Thursday's games:

PROPOSE SWITCH WALKER CONTEST

Britishers May Move Golf Matches With Yankees To French Links.

Americans Practice Aboard Liner; Shoot Away 70 Dozen Golf Balls.

ABOARD S. S. AQUATANIA, May 7.—(I. N. S.)—W. C. Fownes, president of the U. S. Golf association, wired English golf officials today that it would be satisfactory to the Walker cup team, which left the United States to compete in the British amateur championships, to call off the competition because of strike conditions in England. Fownes suggested that the matches be played in France.

The American golfers took advantage of the smooth sea today to practice driving into nets on the ship's deck. Some seventy dozen balls were driven overboard during the practice.

CHICAGO, May 7.—(AP)—Merging of sectional golf bodies of the country under supervision of the United States Golf association, a move announced from Cleveland yesterday as under way, has enough disadvantages to balance the advantages and to preclude such action in the immediate future, prominent golfers declared here today.

The consolidation would detract to a marked degree from interesting several sectional tourneys which now have a national flavor, such as the western open, they point out as the chief objection. Under a merger, such meets would, they say, be more local in nature.

Officials of the Western Golf association today said they have received no official information on the matter and could not comment.

County Meet To Fairmont Youths

GENEVA, Neb., May 7.—The Fillmore county high school track and field meet was held at Fairmont Wednesday, the Fairmont squad winning the meet with a total of 57 points. Geneva scored 32 points, Exeter 27 and Ohiowa 11½.

Weather conditions were unfavorable, a high wind blowing throughout the meet and whirling clouds of dust in the faces of the competing athletes.

Hurler For Links Gets His Release

Jim Aydelott, former Stanford university southpaw pitcher and member of the Lincoln club's staff since the start of the 1926 pennant race, was dropped from the Links roster today. Aydelott was acquired from the Los Angeles club, which gave him an early season tryout following his release by the San Francisco club. He had appeared on a few occasions as relief pitcher for the Links, but had not started a game.

Cinder Laurels At Wesleyan Uni. Won By Juniors

The juniors won the Nebraska Wesleyan interclass track and field meet on Johnson field Thursday afternoon. The meet was a warm contest between the juniors, seniors and freshmen. The juniors scored 52 1-3 points, the seniors 49 1-3 points and the frosh 47 1-3 points. The sophs tallied 26 points.

The events were run off in a strong wind. Wilberg won individual honors with 22 points.

CENTRAL FRONTS FIELD IN TRACK

Omaha School Makes Pace In Winning Highest Cinder Honors.

Omaha Central has a commanding lead over the other Nebraska high schools in its collection of track trophies in state interscholastic track and field meets.

The state track competition is now in its twenty-fourth year and the Purple has won eight championships, although Lincoln and Omaha teams were excluded from the first six meets held by the Nebraska association.

Lincoln, Fairbury and York each have won three state track titles. The Fairbury and York banners were won when the city schools were competing in a Missouri Valley association meet.

Beatrice has won two class A titles, while Gothenburg, Grand Island and Kearney Military Academy each were victorious at the close of one season.

Wilber, with three championships, has a strong lead in group two. Broken Bow, Gothenburg and Cambridge each have one championship to their credit in this division.

In group one, the smaller schools, Callaway has won two trophies and tied with Clay Center for another. Dewitt has won two group one titles and Fairfield has been victorious once.

Past championship history follows:

Ohiowa at Tobias.
Alexandria at Western.

FARLEY PURSUES CHAMPION JACK

Boxing Chairman Persists In Effort to Bar Dempsey From New York.

NEW YORK, May 7.—(I. N. S.)—Jack Dempsey's eligibility in New York probably will come up for reconsideration at the meeting of the state athletic commission today, Chairman James A. Farley having declared his decision to force an issue with his associates, William Muldoon and George E. Brower.

A week ago they made known for the first time that they had declared Dempsey eligible on July 17, 1925, in the absence of Farley. The latter subsequently examined the minutes and now claims that there was no mention of this action.

[illegible]

Jack Bentley, former Giant, who started at first base for the Phillies against the Reds, was called to the mound after two other Philadelphia moundsmen were unable to stop the slugging of the Cincinnati crew. Jack walked one man and was touched for one hit in two-thirds of an inning.

Umpires Rescued By ex-Footballer

Umpires Schreck and Doak, who officiated Thursday afternoon during the third and last game of the Links-Oilers series at Landis Field, probably are willing to concede that college football is worth while. It was a husky Nebraska U. footballer, Roy Mandery, who stood between the umpires and a threatened mobbing.

Ire of the spectators had been aroused by a string of decisions against the Links which appeared to be unjust. Threats against the arbiters were made at the time.

When the game was over, an incipient demonstration was squelched when Mandery, acting as a special policeman at the ball park, personally conducted the umpires to their dressing room, shaking up one irate fan who was using his hands to shove one of the arbiters.

The situation plainly was set up to precipitate an umpire mobbing, but Mandery's action quelled the excitement and the umpires escaped unscathed to their private quarters under the grandstand.

The Athletics nosed out the Browns, 5 to 4, by a ninth-inning rally. Harshel Bennett, St. Louis outfielder, turned into a concrete wall and was seriously injured.

Hal Wiltse pitched the Red Sox to a 3 to 0 decision over Sherry Smith of the Indians.

"Have a Camel"

No other cigarette ever made.. and kept.. so many friends as Camels

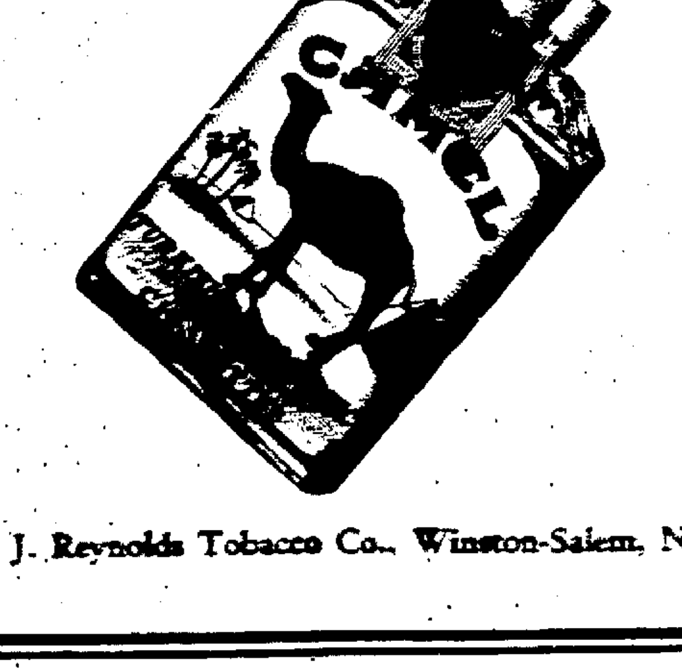

CAMELS began to make warm friendships their very first day on the market. And they've been busy making friends ever since!

Only a cigarette of choicest quality could make a record like Camels. Quality made Camels the world's largest selling cigarette. And quality has kept them far in the lead. Their friends have increased by millions.

Finest Turkish and Domestic tobaccos — cured and mellowed by men long experienced in the art. But it's Camels' exclusive blend that brings out the real fragrant goodness of fine tobaccos. And no tiring of your appetite however liberally you smoke. And never any cigaretty after-taste!

Just every good feature of a good cigarette. "Have a Camel!" is the most welcome smoke invitation ever spoken.

GRAIN MARKETS.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Ill., May 7.

All grain values underwent a pronounced decline today with May and July deliveries of corn touching the lowest prices yet this season. Wheat led the decline influenced by rains which were heavy southwest and west, but mostly scattering in the northwest and left Canada practically untouched. Export demand showed some improvement, total sales being estimated at 500,000 bushels.

Wheat closed unsettled, ¾ to 1⅝c net lower, corn 1 to 1⅜c off and oats ½c to ⅝c down.

WHEAT—Generous rains in Kansas and Nebraska and also in parts of the spring wheat belt, gave a sudden early swing downward to wheat prices today. The moisture in Kansas was reported at various places from which yesterday some of the worst complaints of drought were received. Selling on account of the rains was general. The opening, ⅛ to 1⅜c lower, May (new), $1.58¾@1.59 and July $1.38⅜@1.39, was followed by a material further setback.

CORN—Corn and oats sympathized with wheat weakness. After opening ⅛ to ⅜c off, July 74⅞@75c, corn continued to sag and May delivery went well below 70c a bushel.

OATS—Oats started at a shade to ¼ to ⅜c decline, July 42⅝c. Later the losses widened.

PROVISIONS—In line with hog values the provision market scored gains.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, May 7.

The stock market was still in the doldrums today in the absence of any decisive developments in the British strike situation.

Backing and filling movements characterized the general body of stocks, although temporary outbursts of strength developed in several of the oils, chemicals and public utilities.

Bear traders succeeded in uncovering a few weak spots among the minor motors and specialties, but this selling failed to cause any unsettlement in the general list.

Ward Baking "A" soared 6 points on the decalration of an initial quarterly dividend of $2. Oils responded slightly to stiffening commodity prices and reports of large current earnings.

General Electric dropped 3 points below last night's close and Jordan Motors. Paige Detroit, U. S. Rubber, American Brakeshoe and Foundry, International Telephone and American Hide and Leather preferred sold down 2 points or more.

While the call money rate was unchanged the credit situation appears to be easing with demand loans obtainable in the outside market as low as 3½ per cent.

Stock prices continued to drift within narrow and irregular limits at the opening of today's market. Overnight cables showed no important change in the British strike situation, having a tendency to restrict trading. United States Steel common quickly yielded ¾, presumably on predictions that the April unfilled orders of the corporation might show a shrinking of as much as 500,000 tons. Commercial Solvents A advanced 2 points and Canadian Pacific 1⅝.

The closing was heavy. Sales approximated 700,000 shares.

New York Sugar.
By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, May 7.

SUGAR—Prices advanced 1-16 of a cent a pound in the local raw sugar market early today, with sales of 50,-000 bags of Cuban made to local refiners and operators at 4.21c, duty paid.

The advance in the spot market caused increased covering and outside buying in raw sugar futures with prices at midday showing net gains of 3 to 4 points.

No changes were noted in refined prices, which ranged from 5.20@5.60 for fine granulated.

Sugar futures closed steady; approximate sales 30,000 tons. May 2.47c; July 2.57c; September 2.65c, December 2.79c; January, 2.78c.

Grain Notes

CHICAGO, May 7.—(AP)—The flour business in the northwest is showing a little improvement, due to the break in wheat, it is reported. This and the dry weather in that section have had a strengthening influence on the Minneapolis wheat market and May there reached within 3 cents of Chicago, the closest difference in months.

For some time fair sales of corn to the Pacific coast have been made by Missouri river markets. Supplies of corn are so large at interior points tributary to those markets that sales of average volume, which ordinarily attract attention, are hardly given mention.

All things considered the wheat market at present is a difficult puzzle. While traders in one section of the country are bearish because of prospects of a big crop, those of another section, where crop conditions are adverse, are buying.

May and July corn, which were 5¼ cents spread only a few days ago, were 4½ the last day, with cash interests spreading to a moderate extent. The trade sentiment has been bearish and some observers believe this position will continu longer.

DAUGHERTY TO FACE CHARGES

was paid for putting through the transfer deal.

Miller was indicted last year with four German and Swiss citizens and three German and Swiss corporations on charge of conspiracy to defraud the United States government in the release by Miller, as alien property custodian, of about $7,000,000 of sequestered assets of the American Metal Co., to pretended Swiss owners.

Lengthy Investigation.

The federal grand jury which returned today's indictment had been investigating for several months the transfe rof the American Metal stock to the alleged German owners. The securities, representing were seized during the war as enemy property.

Daugherty appeared before the present grand jury last January. He appeared before the investigating body only after he had been cited for contempt of court because of his refusal to answer certain questions. He escaped a possible jail term for contempt by going before the grand jury.

A New Indictment.

United States District Attorney facts discovered by his assistant, miss the indictment previously recently caused the decision to dis- Buckner announced today that Kenneth F. Simpson, while abroad turned against Miller and to return a new one, naming also Daugherty and King.

Mal S. Daugherty, brother of Harry M. Daugherty, was a witness before the grand jury returning today's indictment. He is president of the Midland National bank of Washington Courthouse, O.

Mr. Buckner declined to comment on the reason why the German, Swiss and individual corporations were not included in today's indictment. In the previous indictment King and Smith were named as sharers with Miller in the $391,000 "gift" alleged to have been made for the maneuvering of the transfer of stock.

Asks Impeachment.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—Impeachment of Federal Judge Isaac M. Meekins of North Carolina, formerly counsel for the alien property custodian under Thomas W. Miller, was asked today by Daniel F. Hickey, a former employe of the internal revenue income tax unit, in a petition filed in the house.

The petition declared Meekins was receiving a salary as voting trustee in the Roessler and Haslacher Chemical Company when that corporation's holdings were taken over by the property custodian, and that he used his influence with income officials to secure relief for the chemical company and affiliated concerns.

The house was urged to bring impeachment proceedings charging unethical conduct. The petition was referred to a committee.

Daugherty Comments.

COLUMBUS, O., May 7.—(By the Associated Press.) "I have nothing to fear." Harry H. Daugherty, former United States attorney general, said today when informed he had been indicted in New York for conspiracy in connection with the American Metal Co., case. He issued a short prepared statement.

"I am in no way apprehensive as to the outcome," he said. He asserted he never heard about the case until after it was disposed of.

ing at Glasgow, Belfast and Dublin. The telephone and mail services are improving.

The house of commons has been hit by a strike of some minor employes, but the speaker plans to conduct proceedings without electric lights or printing if necessary.

A drizzling rain was added to the discomfort in London today, but there was little falling off in the number of pedestrians.

Danish Workers to Strike.

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, May 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—The executive committee of the Danish trade unions gave the Association of Employers preliminary notice today of a strike in support of British strikers.

Improvement Seen.

LONDON, May 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—The government at midday issued a statement declaring that conditions throughout the country were improving, with the workers trickling back to their jobs or making overtures for protection in case they do return.

Possibility of Peace.

LONDON, May 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—The guarded prediction was made this morning by influential labor quarters that the strike crisis might be settled early next week.

This is the most optimistic suggestion thus far emanating from a high source. Upon what it is based was not divulged.

Unofficial peacemakers are steadily working for a solution and the pressure of the churches and other bodies, as well as prominent individuals are being brought to bear to end the trouble.

It is understood that Premier Baldwin and J. H. Thomas, one of the labor leaders, were closeted at a late hour last night, but what took place is unknown, although it is assumed they were discussing the crisis.

Officially both the Trades Union congress and the government are standing pat and both claim things are going well in their respective camps.

The government at noon today stated that conditions were improving throughout the country with only minor disturbances. Traffic conditions were easier, with many more trains and other transportation facilities available.

Strike Enters Fourth Day.

LONDON, May 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—The British public entered upon the fourth day of the general strike with the same outward appearance of stoicism as on the previous day. The people had in prospect better transportation facilities and they also were heartened by the fact that there would be more newspapers published. Otherwise the outlook did not seem in any way improved.

There have been numerous disturbances already. The worst trouble has occurred in Glasgow which has a notoriously radical population, especially in the adjoining shipbuilding and mining districts. There was fierce rioting in the east side of the city yesterday when the police broke many heads and themselves suffered a bombardment of stones and other missiles. The constabulary got the upper hand, however. There was some looting in Edinburgh.

Some of the big English towns also witnessed lively scenes, while in southeast London tumult kept the police busy. The rioting in no case was on such a large scale as to compel the police to call for the aid of troops. The strike leaders continue to deprecate violence and the disturbances apparently have been due to bad elements over which they have no control.

Traffic Movement Better.

Traffic movements generally showed improvement yesterday. Cross channel communication between Dublin and Holyhead is to be restored by one steamer, and if plans are carried out the slight service between Belfast and Great Britain is to be increased. Officials of the London omnibus services were attempting today to reach a still nearer normal schedule than yesterday when their volunteer services were not wholly successful. The biggest company had forty-seven of its eighty buses crippled by attacks of strikers.

The vote of the seamen's union on striking has not been concluded. It is known that some of the seamen were ready to strike, but the union itself refuses to countenance any premature action. It has obtained an injunction to restrain the officials of one branch from calling its members out until the ballot is finished.

Dissatisfaction on the part of a section of the printing trade over being called upon to strike without the customary fortnight notice is being mentioned conspicuously in the anti-strike newspapers.

Hold Protest Meeting.

One branch of the printers' union is reported to have held a protest meeting over the walkout and the newspaper owners are hopeful not only that this attitude will spread, but that the government's pledge to protect workers from victimization after the strike if they return to work will have the effect of inducing many men to resume work.

The British Gazette calls attention to the fact that the British workers' bulletin is being produced by union printers and argues this shows the strike is against newspapers whose political views the strikers disapprove and not for industrial purposes. "The only printers who are allowed to earn their living at their own trade are those employed to foment the strike," saws the British Gazette, which is the government organ.

London's special constable are taking a share in police duty. It is claimed that 8,000 of those who served during the war have re-enrolled and there have been 3,000 new enlistments. These men are not employed where trouble is likely, but do patrol work in quiet districts.

Several Dry Proposals To Be Discarded

Challenge of Gene Tunney Turned Down

NEW YORK, May 7.—(AP)—Adhering to its support of Harry Wills as chief contender for heavyweight title match with Jack Dempsey, the state athletic commission today rejected a formal challenge from Gene Tunney for a bout with the champion.

The commission upheld Harry Greb in his controversy with his manager, Reddy Mason, and broke the business contract between them which Greb charged was obtained unfairly Greb now is free to select another manager.

Joe Dundee, Baltimore welterweight, billed to box Georgia Levine of Brooklyn, at Madison Square Garden tonight, filed a claim for Levine's $250 weight forfeit when the latter scaled a half pound over the stipulated figure, 147, and the commission granted it.

FEW SIGNS AS TO THE TREND OF SENTIMENT

democrats will support the Haugen bill with its plan for price stabilization in the hope that the measure, as some have expressed it, can be left on the white house steps for the president to approve or reject. These claims, however, have not been borne out by the applause democrats have given to speakers endorsing the Tincher credit proposal and the Curtis-Aswell national commodity marketing plan.

The sessions last night were spirited. Interrupted frequently during his attack on the Haugen bill, Representative Tincher at times brought both members and the crowd that packed the gallery into roars of laughter as he shook his massive fist at an opponent while panting for breath with which to reply.

He denounced the Haugen plan as a "direct subsidy" and urged members to look to England in the midst of a general strike to learn the effects of a subsidy policy. He described the corn belt delegation supporting it as "lobbyists who have no principles" and declared they had changed their position regarding its provisions until it has become a "monstrosity."

was at Fairbury, the Rock Island reported, where an inch had fallen Friday morning, and the storm was still continuing throughout the southeast corner of the state.

Seven-hour Downpour.

A seven-hour downpour covered the Sterling division of the Burlington from Holdrege west to the state line. From Edgemont in the Black Hills to Seneca there were also good rains along the Burlington, with 2 inches at Alliance. Herndon reported an inch, Imperial about three-quarters, and on the St. Francis branch and from Herndon to Orleans the Burlington reported about a half inch.

About a half inch also fell over the McCook division.

In the region of Holdrege, Kearney and Hastings showers began falling Thursday and by night developed into a steady, slow rain which was expected to relieve considerably the wheat and oats crops.

Light rains were reported at Grand Island, Fairmont, Harvard, Superior, York, Friend and Dorchester, by the Telephone company.

Rain at Alliance.

ALLIANCE, Neb., May 7.—(AP) A heavy rain was falling throughout northwestern Nebraska Thursday night. The precipitation during the twelve hours was estimated at 2 inches.

All-Day Rain.

ELLSWORTH, Neb., May 7.—(AP)—From Seneca to the western state line, Nebraska was visited by a steady all-day rain, and there were no signs of abatement early Thursday night.

First Big Rain of Year.

SIDNEY, Neb., May 7.—(AP)—A general heavy downpour of rain began here early Thursday and continued throughout the day. It is the first big rain of the season in Cheyenne county and was badly needed.

Ends Long Dry Spell.

KEARNEY, Neb., May 7.—(AP)—Showers broke the long dry spell in this region Thursday.

Less than a quarter of an inch of rain has fallen in Kearney since April 1. During April of last year, 4 inchs fell. Hot winds have prevailed for week and coupled with the drought have damaged winter wheat and oats.

Wheat Crop Assured.

CHAPPELL, Neb., May 7.—(AP)—Deuel county's wheat crop is assured, farmers believe today, as rain continued to fall after an unofficial fall of 3 inches was measured this morning. It has rained for twenty hours.

Summer fallowed wheat was 20 inches high and had begun to head and about 20 per cent of the corn had been planted. Pastures were in good shape before the present rain.

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., May 7.—(AP)—A slow rain beginning last evening amounted to .30 inch during the night. Rain of Friday amounted to a tenth of an inch.

Bluecoats Pounce Down On Wrestler

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 7.—(I. N. S.)—Joe "Toots" Mondt, Colorado heavyweight, goes before the authorities of the sheriff's office today to find out what laws, if any, he fractured when he kicked Joe Malcewicz, the Utica panther, in the bread basket last night after one hour and 18 minutes rough wrestling. The match was awarded Malcewicz on a foul.

Mondt was taken into the joint custody of gendarmes of the city and county, later being released with orders to appear this morning on an indefinite charge. Malcewicz was not seriously hurt.

"Strangler" Lewis headlocked Mike Romano into submission in straight falls in the windup contest of the program, which was staged at Convention hall.

dren of the defendant, who first testified for the state, blaming their father for their mother's death, but switching to the defense this week, refuting testimony of at least one state witness. Mrs. Resler-Davis is awaiting trial as accessory to the murder.

The jury returned to the courtroom at 11:20 this morning and asked District Judge Eldred, presiding, for a "grain of strychnine" to help reach a conclusion. The court refused, on the grounds that such an article was not in evidence and the jury filed back to its deliberations without giving any indications of its decision.

Bernard McNeny of Red Cloud, chief defense counsel, in his argument to the jury declared "I solemnly believe, and with a fixed conviction, Davis is an innocent man. The predicament which he is now in was caused by 'scandal mongers of Beaver City.' But what are we to do with the testimony of men who deliberately lied on the stand, what do you think of that?" He was referring to the testimony of a man that he saw Davis and Mrs. Kate Resler in Davis' Beaver City grocery on the night of August 11. The defense presented extensive evidence that Davis was attending the annual family reunion at Emerson, Ia., at that time.

"Now, that is how this case was built up," McNeny said.

Referring to a statement to the jury by County Attorney Ritchie, that "the most dastard murder was by poison," McNeny declared "an attempt to convict a man by perjured testimony in a court of justice is even more dastardly."

Dr. John T. Myers of the University of Nebraska college of medicine, who made the examination of Mrs. Davis' vital organs last Sunday, was described by McNeny as incompetent in such cases.

Reviewing the testimony concerning Davis' marriage to Mrs. Resler, four months after his wife's death, McNeny exclaimed, "Why, Woodrow Wilson married eight months after his wife's death, and he surely had much more sense than a small town butcher and grocery man."

McNeny berated County Attorney Ritchie for his statement regarding the testimony of Dr. F. A. Brewster of Holdrege, a defense witness. Dr. Brewster testified that he had examined the brain in the autopsy and found no trace of poison and Ritchie exclaimed, "Why didn't you testify that in the first place and save all of this litigation."

No man in McCook, Red Cloud—his home town—or Beaver City, could stand personal exposure and remain as unscathed as Davis has in this trial, McNeny asserted.

County Attorney Ritchie, made an impassioned plea in demanding the death penalty.

"Man and woman are animals with education, but with still the instincts of animals," he declared. "The state of Nebraska desires men with stamina to uphold our government. The passion for the female has caused great men to fall, men in all walks of life. The rape of Helen caused the Trojan war. Wherein today does man differ from the cave man of long ago?"

"It is more pleasant to pass by the realities of life and go beside the sunny, bubbling brook and look at the dream of life, as the defense counsel this family of Davis'."

Declaring that the state wanted Davis to have a fair trial, Ritchie asked "who granted Mrs. Blanche A. Davis a fair trial on life?"

"Her executioner," he said, "was her most trusted companion. This man who lost his wife last August 30, found the widow Kate (Mrs. Kate Resler) whom he married a little after Christmas.

"What was done Christmas after Mrs. Davis died? Instead of keeping his family by the fireside, especially at the most endearing time of the year, what did the defendant do? He sent the children to Iowa and spent Christmas with Mrs. Resler."

Expenses Very High.

BEAVER CITY, Neb., May 7.—(AP)—With the case of Bert M. Davis, former Beaver City grocer, who stands charged with poisoning his first wife so he could marry Mrs. Kate Resler, also a former resident here, whom he married four months after his wife's death, in the hands of a District court jury at McCook, local citizens have begun counting the cost of the trial to Furnas county. A change of venue was granted Davis on his plea that local citizens were prejudicial towards him.

Elmer Kay, county clerk, has estimated that the case will cost this county approximately $6,000 but the expense may amount above that figure, owing to the fact that so much expert testimony was required in the trial. Dr. John Myer of the University of Nebraska college of medicine, declared he will have a 1140 mileage bill. The jury cost is expected to be about $100 a day.

CHARGE WOMEN WITH LARCENY

Pair Said To Have Stolen Four Dresses From Local Stores.

Their trip to Omaha interrupted, two women who were arrested Thursday afternoon face charges of grand larceny in connection with the theft of four dresses from three local stores.

Captain Walter Anderson took the women, who gave the names of Clara Anderson and Vera Morgan, from a room at the Lindell hotel where they were preparing to depart for Omaha. Several merchants identified them and the charges were filed. Arraignment was delayed until Friday afternoon.

The arrests followed an afternoon search of the downtown stores after several complaints had reached the police station. Captain Anderson and Secretary Gohde, together with several merchants, worked separately searching for the two women.

Waverly Schools Hold a Musicale

National music week was observed by the Waverly consolidated schools of which A. B. Jacobs is superintendent, by a community sing, a music contest and a musicale Wednesday morning. Mrs. E. S. Luce, supervisor of music, repeated her address on "Give More Thought to Music," which was broadcast from WFAB at Lincoln Tuesday.

"There is one class of people which has very little chance of coming in direct contact with musicians, Mrs. Luce said, "and that is the world of shut-ins. Take them the brightest, happiest songs— nature songs, lullabies, old-time tunes and see how they are appreciated. For in this glorious land of ours, "America," yes "America the Beautiful,' let us as musicians and music loving folk do our bit and 'Let music swell the breeze and ring from all the trees.' Let us strive to 'Keep the Home Fires Burning' for, really, you know, 'There's No Place Like Home.' Even though sometimes we feel that 'All de World Am Sad and Dreary,' 'Remember' that 'Always' 'There Are Smiles That Make Us Happy.'

"Then you know 'There's Music in the Air' just any time in these good old days to keep us from being 'Lonesome' and feeling 'All 'All Alone' and when 'The End of a Perfect Day' comes, let us see if 'Just a Song at Twilight' will 'Brighten the Corner' and for the sake of 'Auld Lang Syne' we may live over and over again that healthy sentiment 'We're glad so glad so very glad we're all so glad we're here.'"

Ensemble singing featured the program. All the grades and the high school glee club furnished numbers. Quotations on music were memorized and given by pupils in the rooms of Miss Harrold, Mrs. Rankin and Mrs. Carter. Patriotic songs closed the musicale.
